"My husband gives at work — BUT I WANT TO HELP, TOO"

HOW heart-warming it is to a Torch Drive worker to hear your cheery "come in"—even though your husband has already contributed at his work.

You see, the worker knows the 1955 Torch Drive might well fall short of its goal, were it not that the women of Detroit consider it a privilege to make their personal contributions to the needy, the blind, the orphans, the sick and the lame.

We're talking to you, Lady!

When the Torch Drive worker rings your bell she knows your husband has probably already given at his work. But she also knows this isn't enough. That's why she calls at your home.

You won't make excuses. You won't be behind your husband's gift. You'll ask the worker to come in. You'll face the issue squarely, dig down, and give everything you possibly can, from the goodness of your heart.

There's no "men only" sign on generosity. Knowing this, you will play your part. To you, therefore, we express the thanks of Detroit's 150 participating agencies—and the gratitude of those to whom you will bring help and comfort.
