in Dearborn, on Monday, August 22. Those who had previously made the tour were pleasantly surprised to find that each group is now accompanied by a guide who explains all points of interest and the history of the building of the estate. They were informed that tours are now limited to two each day, as large groups were found to be a hazard to the preservation of the house. The well-kept garden featured beautiful roses at this time. Among members driving were Mrs. R. C. Banker, Mrs. Otto Tron, Mrs. E. S. Maund, Mrs. Frank Nagelsdorf and Mrs. Julian Offenstien, and the several cars led at Dearborn last night, where reservations had been made for luncheon.

Get-Acquainted Luncheon Is Held

WALNUT LAKE—There are lots of fun and talk at the John Bolus home, on West Dartmoor road, Wednesday, August 24. Mrs. Bolus entertained a group of neighbors at a luncheon, giving some of them a chance to get acquainted for the first time. Attending were Mrs. John C. Rehard, Mrs. Frederick L. Marriatt, Mrs. Thomas Taylor, Mrs. Stewart Underhill, Mrs. Donald Button, Mrs. Al Kachinko, Mrs. Herbert W. Marx and Mrs. Howard A. Juhl.

Walnut Lake ELIZABETH BUNNELL, MA 6-3444 M. W. Pittards Welcome Little Newcomer to Family

A special welcome from everyone to Raymond Lee Pittard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mack W. Pittard, of Old Orchard road, Young Raymond arrived August 19, at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, in Pontiac, weighing 8 lbs. 7 oz. at birth.

The Pittards, who moved from Birmingham to the Braes last fall, have two other children, Penny, 8, and Chip, 6, both residing in Walnut Lake school. Penny and Chip reached home just in time to greet the new-comer, having been guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hingst, of Atlanta, Ga. Mr. and Mrs. Hingst drove here for a two-week stay, and took the children back to Atlanta with them for a visit while the baby was expected. The foursome drove back, being present when mother and son returned from the hospital. Pittard is associated with the Walter Fry Proctor, in Detroit. He is a member of Birmingham Country club, where he spends his spare time on the golf course.

HOME FROM BAYVIEW

A June graduate of Birmingham high school, Stewart Schultz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Schultz, of Walnut Lake road, spent the summer at Bayview, attending the Albion college summer study camp. He returned home Saturday, August 26, together with Dave French, of Detroit. Stew will enter Albion as a freshman next month.

Also returning home from Bayview was Nancy Button, of East Birmingham, who will start her senior year at Albion when enrollment begins. Dr. J. B. Peterson to bring Nancy home, Donald Button was accompanied by his sister, Miss Walter Fry Proctor, who is part of her vacation visiting with her brother's family.

Taking advantage of some cool weather in the midst of our hot summer, Mrs. Davy A. Young, daughter of West Dartmoor road, entertained at a luncheon last Wednesday.

Gathered around the luncheon table were Mrs. Harry White, Mrs. John McKee, Miss Ruby Jarvis, Mrs. John Small and Mrs. William C. Bunnell.

Mr. and Mrs. John Parkins, with daughters Pamela and Susan, spent their vacation in Toronto this year. The remainder of the summer was enjoyed at home, where they have had the pleasure of visits from many of their relatives.

Their most recent houseguest, Mrs. Gale E. Parkins, returned to Montreal last week, as she was anticipating the return of her son from camp.

Her visit here coincided with her husband's trip to Niagara, where he was in charge of Boy Scouts from the Province of Quebec at the International Jamboree.

His group served as one of the host groups to foreign scouts, and the Parkins with their guest were able to observe them on television during the preliminary ceremonies held on August 20.

Daughter Pat, of the U. S. Naval Nurse Corps, spent a 15-day leave at home from her base at the U. S. Naval Hospital in Charleston, S. C. She returned to South Carolina last week.

From Worcester, Mass., were the houseguests at the Don Clymer home on South Clunbury road last week, Mr. and Mrs. Thure Larson were accompanied by their three daughters, Nancy, Shirley and Cindy. While the family was happy to be out of danger when the floods struck in their own state, they were understandably concerned about conditions at home.

HOME FROM TRIPS
The Adolf Roesslings, of Eastmoor road, with daughters Mary Margaret and Kathleen, toured the east during their vacation, with sightseeing in Virginia and Washington, D. C.

In New York they had a good time looking up former neighbors, the Roesslings formerly living on

Two Walnut Lake Couples Observe 7th Anniversary

WALNUT LAKE—The Dale Brubakers, of South Clunbury road, invited friends in for an "at home" celebration on their seventh wedding anniversary, Saturday, August 20.

Highlight of the party was charcoal-broiled steaks served on the rear terrace. Following cocktails and dinner, the guests danced till late on the patio, and then moved indoors for parlor games.

Present for the frolic were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hollis, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Bunnell.

The John McKees, of West Dartmoor road, also celebrated their

Busy Bee Bottles Up Housewife

WING LAKE—A housewife here was suddenly made to realize how an elephant feels about a mouse the other day when she was hanging her clothes on the wash line. She started to hang a Japanese silk kimono with red flowers embroidered on it. A humble bee came roaring in from nowhere, buzzed one of the flowers on the garment and then buzzed her. As the bee flew around locating another flower, she again attempted to touch the kimono and the bee immediately came at her face and neck. Finally she gave up, stepped aside and watched "little but mighty" take over. Complete massaged to buzz every flower on the kimono while she waited patiently. Satisfied that there was no pollen in this variety of flowers, the bee flew away. She then finished hanging this and all the rest of her wash. Little as a humble bee, big as a tornado, mother nature still holds the stick.
