2 Boards To Discuss Club Sale

New cooperation between city boards is developing out of the discussion whether Birmingham Athletic club should be sold part of the Cranbrook and 14 Mile lot that appears on city recreation board maps.

The sale of the 500 x 500 foot lot to the private club will be discussed Oct. 4 at a planning board committee meeting, to which recreation board members are being invited.

At Tuesday night's planning board meeting, chairman William W. Dyer suggested that board work closer together took this initial step towards talking over problems.

"I don't remember such a meeting ever being held previously," said George Martin, board vice chairman.

POSSIBILITY that a member of one board may be invited to sit in when the other board discusses a matter important to both, was mentioned.

At the Oct. 4 meeting, the recreation board will have a chance to summarize any plans that it has for the land, since there is no other property owned on west side of town besides high school property that could be recreational.

FRANK WHITNEY, director of city recreation, indicated his board had it on its maps, but possibly would release the 500 foot lot if it would not be adaptable for playground. He surmised some lots near roads would not be good for children's play.

The planning board also recommended that city council deny Frederick K. Graef's request for rezoning of three lots in the Birmingham-Crestwood subdivision from single family to business A. The lots, on the northeast corner of 14 Mile and Southfield, are north of a service station.

WAITING FOR the approval toward which the board is working now, of new professional office classifications, is decision of rezoning of four lots from terrace to residential or professional office. Richard W. Heinen wishes to place a medical-dental building there.

With $3,000 in planning budget for consultation services, the board was asked by its technician, Herbert Herzberg, to begin referring to the land use commission. In two weeks, when existing zoning ordinances are retype'd, this will proceed.

Herzberg's attending of a conference of planning officials in Montreal Sept. 25 to 29 was approved.

Award Contract For Addition to Beverly School

Bids and plans for additions to Beverly and Pembroke schools, and announcement of the sale of $2,000,000 in bonds were primary discussion points at the Birmingham school board meeting Tuesday night.

The board has called a special meeting for next Tuesday, Sept. 27, to accept bids on the first portion of the $5,000,000 issue passed by the voters in June.

MAXIMUM interest rate the board will pay on the issuance of $2,000,000 was reduced to 2 1/2 per cent. Previous rate was four per cent.

The six-room and kindergarten addition to Beverly school got the green light with the acceptance of bids totaling $236,224.

General contracting bid of $175,352 was awarded to the J. C. Nielsen company. Low of $25,530 was accepted for the mechanical work from the Imperial Plumbing and Heating.

ELECTRICAL bid of Grangood Electric for $10,542 with an additional $1,700 for traffic and bus address equipment and wiring also was accepted.

Architectural plans for Pembroke school addition were presented and accepted by the board, with the opening of bids set for Oct. 11.

TROY—a five-day sick leave has been approved by the Troy School Board for the cooks in the school district schools.

Siren Signals Sprinkling Halt At All Times

Even though water sprinkling restrictions have been lifted, Birmingham residents are being warned that any time the siren blows, sprinkling automatically is prohibited.

"Even if the siren blast is for designating a fire, residents must stop watering immediately," said Fire Chief Paul Smith.

Chief Smith said "especially during fire drills when the water pressure is needed."

A SITUATION arose last week end when temperatures climbed suddenly, causing a drop in water pressures.

There was no record in the amount of water used, but in order to prevent the pressure from reaching a danger point, the fire siren sounded to cause sprinkling. Tuesday the residents of Birmingham became alarmed over the strange colored water which came out of their spigots about noon.

"There was nothing wrong with the water," said Chief Smith, "but the department was flooded with calls."

He explained that while digging a trench in one section of town, a water main was broken by the digger, thereby causing sudden reversal and turbulence which upset the iron oxide in the main.

General news deadline is 4:30 p.m. each Tuesday.
