

Soroptimists Celebrate Birthday Observance

The 20th anniversary celebration of the Soroptimist International will be observed this evening with a dinner party at Devon Gables.

New curator of Cranbrook Museum of Art, Miss Margaret Cramer of Holland, the Netherlands, will be guest speaker.

During the period of celebration, the founding of the very first Soroptimist club—in Oakland, California in 1935—will be observed also, throughout the world, by members of Soroptimist International.

All clubs are members of a Federation, either American, European or Continental European, which together form Soroptimist International Association comprised of over 900 clubs and 30,000 members.

AMONG the freshmen students arriving on the campus of Hollins college, Va., this month was Valerie Wright, daughter of Washburne Wright of Abbey road.

THE BIRMINGHAM Soroptimist Club was organized in 1935 with the following charter members: Gertrude J. Arnold, Irge Bennett, Mae Carpenter, Lillian Connelly, Ruth L. Collins, Louise Connelly, Chlo. Cook, Veda McGuffin, Ruth Pew Hart, Gladys Heine, Gertrude Hoke, Madeline V. Hoke, Jessie Maxwell, Joyce R. Packard, Ethel Reynolds, Laura G. Schroeder.

The club's growth is shown by its active participation in community, county and state affairs. Its president is Mary L. Doney of North Woodward avenue.

A member of Soroptimist International Association, the Birmingham club subscribes to the ideals of promoting "an universal spirit of friendship as being conducive to international peace" and supporting "with Inter-Government and other organizations for the advancement of international understanding, good-will, and peace." However, the primary reason for the existence of Soroptimist clubs is to serve home, society, business, country and God, continuously with dignity and sincerity.

At the public meeting conducted by Mrs. Nan Deben and Dr. Melton Everett.

Corryell Family Has Reunion Week

It's a reunion week for the Ralph L. Corryell of Orchard Lake road. Their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Seike, and son, Eugene, flew here two weeks ago from their home in Fairfax, Calif.

As Mr. Ralph, Jr. arrives this week from Cincinnati for a few days before the Seikes return home.

Last month the Corryells visited their daughter and son-in-law, Capt. and Mrs. Karl T. Larson and son, Eric, at Harmon Air Base, Bellefontaine, New Franklin, Ind.

Ballet Classes

Ballet club began its classes for the year on Thursday at the YMCA with Miss Myra Halbig, ballerina of American Turners and Groves Pointe as the teacher, but openings still exist.
