Franklin School 4th Graders Hold Flower, Vegetable Show

By ANGELA DADSON

FRANKLIN—Mrs. Daisybelle Richards, fourth grade teacher at Franklin school with a penchant for coming up with interesting diversions from the routine of reading, writing and arithmetic, started early in the new semester with a floral, vegetable and fruit arrangement contest for her pupils.

Grand prize red, white and blue ribbons went to Fritz Finfield for a miniature landscape, depicting a skirmish between Indians and cowboys, arranged on a round wooden tray with moss for the terrain, bits of driftwood as mountains and rocks, and evergreen bits and various weeds made into trees.

IN THE VEGETABLE category, the blue ribbon was awarded Ricky Robl's white box-like tray in which the center of interest was a green squash of unusual and knobby contour, surrounded by various garden vegetables.

The red ribbon went to Nancy Worcester's spray-like arrangement in green, tan and yellow, of miniature pumpkins in a brass tray with a background of corn tassels and cat tails.

Don McIntosh from his own already had been taken to the hospital when the inhalator arrived. The department washed gasoline off Telegraph near Maple Sept. 23 and again on Sept. 25 when truck accidents occurred.

Members of the debate club are Margaret Gray, Elaine Hansicker, Elizabeth Robertson, Mary Bush, Sharon Kost, Lorraine Kushner, Sharon Bannar, Jeanne Hale, Audrey Thornton, Judy Matthews, Joan Helmer, Priscilla Johnson, Mike Warren, Jim Stora, Steve Tullier and Floyd Ramseyer.
