Serving of Shrimp

Among the attractions at the Dunham Park annual barbeque were the serving of shrimp and the company of friends. The shrimp were cooked on a large grill and served with a variety of sauces. The crowd enjoyed the delicious seafood, creating a festive atmosphere.

LOCAL RESIDENTS: James M. Watson and James H. Melton, Jr. Tilghman, lived near Dunham Park, with the St. Ida goldmine nearby. This area has been known for its gold deposits and mining activities. A contract was recently signed by the company for the development of the mine, promising economic growth and new opportunities for the local community.

ATOMIC ATTITUDE: A group of students at Stork Atomic Science, located in the West End, were preparing to conduct an experiment. They were studying the effects of atomic energy on the environment and its potential impact on the future.

Sun Hits Library Gable

CLEARLY SHINE: The library, located on the University of Illinois campus, was bathed in sunlight, illuminating the building's architecture. The warm light enhanced the building's design, creating a serene and inviting atmosphere.

Arabian Riders

ADDRESS: AND CHAT: Arabian Riders, a group of enthusiasts, gathered at the Illinois State Fairgrounds to showcase their skills in horseback riding. The riders performed various maneuvers, including jumps and tricks, demonstrating their mastery of the Arabian horses.

Handling Deluge of Arts, Crafts at Kirk

WHICH IS TOPS: Peter J. Roselli, president of the Illinois Art Institute, was among the participants at the Deluge of Arts, Crafts event at Kirk. The event featured a variety of artistic displays, including paintings, sculptures, and crafts, attracting visitors from all over the region.

Students At Stork

APPROACHING: A group of students at Stork Atomic Science, located in the West End, were preparing to conduct an experiment. They were studying the effects of atomic energy on the environment and its potential impact on the future.

3rd and 37 photo behind Mrs. John Layton, who holds "Paperback" for R. G. Kay, Mrs. Kay's resident in a corner building, and Mrs. Charles H. Robinson, chairman of the Illinois State Fair. Mrs. Kay, a resident, and Mrs. Robinson, chairman of the Illinois State Fair, are both residents of the area.