Wing Lake Families Vacation Near and Far

By VIRGINIA COLE

Wing Lake families have returned from trips and vacations spent north and south, east and west.

Mrs. George Muehl and son George, Sandy lane, cruised to Nassau aboard the S.S. Nassau out of New York. They found many diversions on this pleasure ship, including a luxurious swimming pool and with the boat as the hotel, they visited the island.

By air travel, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Knight, Wing Lake road, spent two weeks visiting Nassau and Havana, sight-seeing, sunning and swimming.

FLORIDA vacationists include the John J. Gilletts, Wing Lake road, who spent a month in Venice, Fla. A side trip to the Keys gave them the opportunity to go bone fishing at the Anglers club in Key Largo.

Bone fishing, they say, is the sportiest of fishing experiences and can only be done with the best of guides. They are small fish but most crafty to catch. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Proctor, Wing Lake road, visited them in Venice.

MR. AND MRS. Jack Bohner,

Worlington road, are back from a trip to New Orleans and Florida. After a week in New Orleans, the Bohners went to Ft. Lauderdale seeking friends Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Smith.

The two couples aboard the Smiths' private yacht, set out on a cruise of the inland waterways and to the Keys. They anchored in Shark river in the Everglades for tarpon fishing and while they had no luck in the tarpon department, they did enjoy the beauty of the water in their environment. Returning to Ft. Lauderdale, they were guests at the Smiths' home.

During the cruise, the Bohners and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bohner of Champaign, Ill. joined them for a few days aboard. While in New Orleans, the Bohners met Mr. and Mrs. Fred Keller, Wing Lake road, and saw them off as they went aboard for their South American cruise.

HAWAII was the place chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas L. Jockey, Lakewood road, and Mrs. and Mrs. Truman Hart of Bloomfield Hills. After spending two weeks at the Surf Rider visiting friends and enjoying the beach, they went to Hana-Maui, where they looked over property they had purchased.

The Jocelyns, Harts and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. DeVlieg, formerly of Foxcroft, but now Long Lake, each bought two acres adjoining Maui, sight unseen. Consequently it was a thrilling experience to see what they owned. Much to their delight, the land is beautiful seashore acreage, on which they all intend to build eventually.

During their trip, Mrs. Jocelyn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gray of Gaymen, Okla., stayed with the Jocelyn children.

MRS. Raymond Shaw, Sheringham, spent her vacation visiting her son and wife, Lt. and Mrs. Richard Shaw, stationed at Harlingen, Texas, about 20 miles north of the Mexican border.

She spent one day at Padre Island Picnicking and swimming and one day and night at Matamoros, Mexico. On her return, she stopped in Houston to visit friends and went to Galveston where she enjoyed a delicious shore dinner.

TRAVELING eastward were the Frank Breischers, West Maple road, and nine-year old twin daughters, Susan and Sally. Motoring to Washington D. C. the girls were torn between the delights of the Detroit Skating club ice carnival at the Olympic last week, as flowers in one of the acts.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thom and sons, Bob and Bill, motored to Washington and Philadelphia. En route they visited the Hershey candy factory which fascinated the boys.

For Mr. Thom, the trip included some research for a painting. For this he visited the old senate chamber for the first U. S. pharmacopoeia.

CRAIG AND LYNDIA Weston got their first glimpse of the marvels of New York City when their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Earl E. Weston took them to this great metropolis.

They saw a rehearsal of the Ed Sullivan TV show and were captivated by a rehearsal of the commercials for the Ringling Bros. circus spectacular.

Craig and Lyndia saw their first stage shows, taking in "No Time for Sergeants" and "Oklahoma" and also saw Arthur Godfrey's TV show.

Since the Queen Elizabeth was in port, they went aboard, had a tour of the ship and watched Grace Kelly's ship pull out of the harbor.

DR. WESTON is a ham radio enthusiast and setting up his equipment in his hotel room, he dangled a wire out the window and was in business. He contacted
