WNFG to Hear Conservationist

Birmingham branch of Woman's National Farm and Garden association will hear Paul M. Barrett of Michigan State university at their meeting Tuesday evening.

Mr. Barrett, MSU's extension specialist in land and water conservation, will speak on "Land Use." This meeting is open to the public and will be in Birmingham Community House at 8 p.m.

"Since conservation is the wise use of our natural resources, Mr. Barrett is just the person to tell us how the state puts our land, good and bad, to its best use," Mrs. Charles Davison explained.

MRS. DAVISON is conservation chairman for the garden group, as well as meeting chairman.

"Mr. Barrett has a fine sense of humor and will illustrate his talk with films. We feel this is a program that will particularly appeal to the men in our community," she added.

Garden tip for this meeting will be presented by Arthur Claxton, professional dirt gardener. His topic will be "Spring Garden Tips."

Pierce PTA to Hear Professor's Talk

Guest speaker at Pierce school PTA meeting this evening at 8 will be Dr. Charlotte Junge, professor of education at Wayne university.

Her talk will be directed toward the subject, "Making Arithmetic Meaningful."

She is one of the authors of the series "Growth in Arithmetic," a group of texts which has been adopted by Birmingham schools for basic arithmetic.

FOR ADDED INTEREST, there will be an exhibit of materials used by Pierce teachers in arithmetic instruction. This will include books and devices purchased by the board of education, plus teaching aids constructed by the teachers.
