J. L. Rush Home Uses New Approach in Home Building

Mr. and Mrs. J. Leonard Rush's new home on the corner of Telegraph road and Fairlane drive is the result of both their efforts. Mr. Rush designed the home and supervised its construction. The open living plan was built on an entirely new conception and without the use of wood, plaster or paint.

An architect with offices in Detroit, Mr. Rush received his education at Illinois University, the Beaux Arts school in New York and the University of Michigan. He was affiliated with Sigma Chi and Tau Sigma Delta, national honorary fraternities for artists. Mrs. Rush assisted her husband by doing the interior decorating. The Rushes' talented daughter, Karen, started her schooling at the University of Michigan and then transferred to Chicago Art Institute where she won the 50th H. Vanderpool, 1955-56 Scholarship. Also a recipient of the Daniel Van Degrift scholarship for last year, Karen, too, is a member of Tau Sigma Delta and plans to go into the commercial art field after her June graduation.

Joanna Herro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Herro of East Greenwich drive, is an extremely busy young lady. She attends University of Detroit night school, teaches at the Cleveland intermediate school, Ferndale, and has just finished coaching the high school girls varsity and reserve basketball teams for the past season. The reserve team under Joann's training, won a trophy and on children Peto, Mike and Penny and driving to Charlotte, N.C. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson stayed with Mrs. Jackson's mother, Mrs. E. G. Krentler and the children were guests at Mrs. Jackson's sister's home. The weather was in the high 70's very conducive to playing golf.

Every minute of the three days the Paul Drogos spent in New York recently was crammed with entertainment. The Drogos took with friends Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Mair of Wing Lake.

With a car at their disposal in N.Y. all the sights were seen. Besides famous landmarks, the two couples saw the Rockies, the St. Allan television show, "The Great Sebastian" and "No Time Sargents." took a tour of the oceanliner The United States, got a quick glimpse of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, and stayed at the Commodore hotel. Whew!

Mr. W. E. Koch has been visiting his sister, Mrs. H. B. Hagerman, and her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Young of Jackson Park drive. Mr. Koch came from his home in Tryon, N. C., where last year he was president of the Tryon Hunt Club.

A family reunion took place at the Gordon Nyquist's home on Old Mill road recently. Mrs. Nyquist's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Adair, Bettie Lou, Sandra and Gordon, are visiting from San Diego, Calif.

The Adairs are on their way to Newport, R. I. where Mr. Adair has business for an indefinite length of time. Mrs. Nyquist's and Mrs. Adair's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clarke, and ten grandchildren were together, many for the very first time.

IN MUSICAL PLAY
Hard work and perseverance have brought rewards to Connie Barton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Barton of Dunblaine in her role as Clara Schumann in the play on the life of Robert Schumann, the great German composer. The play was written and directed by music students in the Detroit area of the junior division of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs.

The youngsters have worked an entire year for this production doing much research under their counsellor, Mrs. Dorothy Brown and the three-act play was written to establish a greater appreciation of Schumann's genius as a composer.

Connie is a member of the Detroit B-Sharp junior music club, in charge of the properties backstage for the performance to be presented Friday evening, April 27 at the MacGregor public library.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Black of Riverside drive have returned from a six weeks jaunt to Florida also, where they enjoyed golf and deep fishing. While in Ft. Lauderdale where they headquartered during their stay they purchased one of the cooperative housing units in that city. The Blacks plan to return to Ft. Lauderdale in June taking the children with them to spend about a month in their new quarters.

The Ludwig Enders of Mayfair lane also are travelers these days having spent two weeks at Key Biscayne in Florida. Son Bob returned from Washington and New York where he enjoyed all the sights along with the rest of Birmingham high seniors.
