Leaves His Shoes Behind in Chase

After running out of his loafer shoes in a vain attempt to evade pursuing Birmingham police Saturday, an escapee from a Knoxville, Tenn. juvenile home is being turned over to Tennessee juvenile authorities by local police.

His brother-in-law, Edward R. LeMay, 26, of Pontiac, wase arrested shortly after by Pontiac police.

LeMay is now being held by Birmingham police for investigation of larceny from a building.

The pair were reported by Manager Herman Ziolkowski to be leaving Wrigley's supermarket, 635 S. Woodward, with stolen merchandise.

While his brother-in-law sped away in a car, the juvenile fled on foot, leaving first his shoes and then a jacket which he knew identified him to the five cars of police converging on the area.

HE ALSO LEFT a trail of ash trays, silverware and other merchandise which dropped out of his shirt as he ran.

Final Registration Date for Annexation Election Is May 5

TROY—Final day of registration for the special election on June 5 for annexation of five square miles of the township to the city, will be May 5.

At the same election voters will decide whether to annex two small sections of land surrounded by Birmingham, to that city.

Contemplated too, is a vote which, if approved, would combine Troy's three sewage districts into one program. The three are the Troy drain in the northeast, Evergreen sewer in the west and 12-town in the southeast.

He later told police that even after jumping over several fences and cutting across yards, he saw a police car everywhere he turned, so he stepped into an alley and waited voluntarily while a car picked him up.

Notified of the fleeing car's license number by Manager Ziolkowski, police alerted Pontiac police, who found a number of car radios, spotlights and other parts in the car in which the juvenile had been riding with his brother-in-law.

Court Orders Red Irish Setter Destroyed May 5

Unless an appeal is made to circuit court before Saturday, May 5, the red Irish setter stated to be worth $750 and belonging to the Ralph Yankees, 2115 W. Lincoln, will be destroyed.

Birmingham Justice John J. Gafill at a municipal court hearing Wednesday morning said he felt evidence presented established that the Yankee dog was the one which seriously bit Eddie Rodgers, Jr., 2201 W. Lincoln, on April 2.

A court order is being prepared requiring Dr. R. G. Pearce, veterinarian at 13 Mile and Greenfield, to put the dog to sleep on that date. The dog has been in Dr. Pearce's custody since the day after the biting occurred.

Action was taken on the basis of Birmingham ordinance 435, which states that in certain cases the court may order a dog destroyed as a vicious animal.

Questioned after the hearing, Yankee said he was indecisive as to whether or not he would appeal the case to circuit court.
