James P. Long's Hold Family Gathering on Easter Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Long opened their home on Lahser road starting with brunch prepared by Mr. Long, Easter morning, and ending the day with a family dinner in the late afternoon.

The Longs' two sons are in California, but there are still a good-size family group, daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wally Steelberger from Detroit, and children Wally, Pat, Barbara and Eleanor come early with Mr. Steelberger's mother and sister.

The Longs' granddaughter came with her husband, Joe Terenak, from Dearborn, and daughter Kathy, great-grandchild to the Longs. Mrs. Long's birthday fell on Good Friday this year, so this celebration was held Easter Sunday also.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Starr of Old Mill road returned home a few days before Easter, after a month in Florida. They drove down and stopped first in Ft. Lauderdale for one week, then two weeks at Panama Beach.

While there, Mr. Starr took first pictures of a plane crash on the beach (no injuries to the student pilot flying alone). They both also accumulated a number of Detroit-Birmingham area people. On to Winter Haven for two days where they visited Cypress Gardens and took more pictures. Before starting home, they stayed with friends, former Detroiters, now making their home in Bellair.

Easter Sunday found the Starrs spending the day with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Starr, Jr., and grandchildren in Thornewick subdivision.

Two huge Easter bunnies peered out the window of the Robert Wink home on Old Mill road Easter Sunday. They were welcomed Mr. and Mrs. William Wink, Sr.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Cronin, and children Patrick, Michael and Jody; and Mr. and Mrs. William Wink, Jr. and children Jody, Carol and Bill, to dinner.

Assisting mother with the buffet table, fixing many Easter eggs and admiring the pink and white carnations were Tere and Robbi Wink. The occasion was two-fold as Mr. Wink, Sr. was also celebrating his birthday.

Mrs. Raymond S. West of Oakland drive entertained her church club March 28. The occasion was served to the eight members seated around the table centered with a brass fruit bowl and candles with white candles. Mrs. Krainer was on bridge prizes very decorative bottles filled with bath salts.

SPECIAL CAKE Mrs. Gordon Nyquist had his own special cake to celebrate his first birthday. Helping him enjoy the occasion were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Nyquist of Old Mill road, his sisters Bonnie and Susan, and his brother Doug. Invited for refreshments in the evening were grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark and G. E. Nyquist, and nearby aunts, uncles and cousins too.

While at a St. Patrick's Day party at Oakland Hills country club, two couples, Mr. and Mrs. Paul O. Jackson of Maple road, and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Murphy, Jr. of Birmingham, decided to spend a weekend in Las Vegas. The weekend was that of March 24. They boarded the plane Friday noon

Family Groups and Friends Gather for Easter Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Koning, Jr. motored to Lansing Easter with their sons Kirk and David. There they met Mrs. Koning's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gillis Vandenberg who came over from Grand Rapids so that they might take their eldest son to the Easter service.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan G. Campbell, Jr., flew home from Florida so that they could spend Easter with their children Greg, Mary Kay and Tim. While in Florida they visited his parents in Lake Worth.

The Campbells entertained Father Blake of Roseville on Easter day; the priest who performed their marriage ceremony and baptized their son Greg.

Joyce Kraft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kraft of Elizabeth celebrated her ninth birthday recently at a party in her home. Guests were Mary Lou and Kathy Chastner, Debby Lawson, Barbara Blackhall and Mary Lou and Kathy Simmons.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller and children, Bob and Kathy spent Easter Sunday at the Detroit home of maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Krzycki. Gail Studders of Alma is visiting Kathy Miller this week. Gail used to live on Beechwood too and hasn't returned to visit her old playground since the family moved to Alma last summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman E. Pravel and daughter, Marcia returned to their home on Arlington last week after three weeks in Florida. They flew to Miami and stayed in the Ocean Terrace in Hollywood for a few days. Marcia and her mother went to Ingelwood and visited one week with Mr. and Mrs. Pravel's parents, who are building a home there, while Mr. Pravel returned home.

Barbara Lee Monahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Monahan, celebrated her 11th birthday recently with the help of a magician. He was right in season when he pulled a white bunny out of the hat and the little girls were quite upset when the bunny disappeared. But smiles returned when that guest was given a magic trick of her own.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Vickary are newcomers at 17331 Locherbie from Windsor, Ontario. They have two daughters, Janis, 7 and Marilyn, 2.

The Vickarys enjoy an evening of bridge and Mrs. Vickary is still in a Windsor bridge group. Tuesday, the 11 "Windsor girls" will come to East Beverly for dessert and an evening of bridge.

Vickary is checking his fishing gear and getting his golf clubs ready for the season. He graduated from General Motors Institute in Flint and received his degree in engineering from Lawrence Technological Institute in the Chevrolet division of General Motors.

Republican state convention will be held May 5 in Detroit.

Bloomfield Hills Students Will Exhibit Year's Work

For the final meeting of the year, April 17, the Parent Teacher Organization of Bloomfield Hills high school will present an exhibition of student's work done during the year in the new school.

The new building has offered many courses and opportunities, which until this year, were never before available to students. The PTO is giving recognition to an enthusiastic response and fine work in the expanded program.

Mrs. Edna G. O'Neil, Wing Lake road, spent three months this winter in Florida. Her time there was divided between Ft. Lauderdale and staying with her daughter and family in their Florida home in Hollywood.

Mrs. O'Neil's daughter is Mrs. George Witherspoon, Dakota Circle.

Miss Joan Mularoni, sister of Humbert Mularoni, Clarendon road, together with three other teachers, are spending their two-week spring vacation in Hawaii.

Jerry Mularoni of Detroit, cousin of Mr. Mularoni, and Miss Anne Vitranio of Detroit, announced their engagement Easter eve. The wedding date has not been set.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack MacKay, Lone Pine road and children, Judy and Jackie, spent the first three weeks of March in Florida. Taking a cottage on Indian Rocks beach on the Gulf of Mexico, they spent most of their time swimming and sunning.

Side trips to Cypress Gardens to see the sea water show; the Sunken Gardens at St. Petersburg and Silver Springs, all were interesting adventures, but the evening that a neighboring tourist caught a shark with a hook and rope, was the never-to-be-forgotten incident.

Each evening three or four sharks would ride in on the breakers to be fed fish by people on shore. While fishing with hook and line one evening, one of the men caught a shark but it promptly got away.

Next evening, with no thought of actual success, the man baited a hook and tied it to a rope and deliberately went fishing for the shark at the appointed hour. Much to his amazement, he caught a 175-pound shark. It weighed seven feet long and took four men to haul it in. This fisherman was a Michigan man who loaded his catch into the trunk of his car and sped to the nearest taxidermist.

The MacKays do not know who he was but feel sure they witnessed the Michigan fisherman with the Lane, will fly to Cleveland Wednesday where she will spend the remainder of the week house-sitting in Euclid, a suburb. Mr. Stuckey was transferred to Cleveland several months ago and has commuted on week ends all this year so the children could complete the school year in Bloomfield Hills.

Karen Koehn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Koehn who recently moved from Cherokee Lane to Berex, Ohio, arrived by plane Wednesday evening to be the guest of Sue Jesson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Stanley E. Jesson, Telegraph road.

Thursday she visited with Sue at Bloomfield high school where she was a former student. Saturday, Sue entertained 12 friends for cakes and old-time-sake in Karen's honor.

Good Friday the girls attended at Kirk-in-the-Hills, Karen's former church and Easter Sunday they attended Christ Church, Cranbrook, Sue's church.

Stanley Jesson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Jesson, attending the University of Michigan, has pledged Delta Sigma Delta, a dental fraternity. Joe Jesson, his sister, who this year is a freshman at the university of Michigan, studying their engagement Easter eve. The wedding date has not been set.

Miss Beverly Wheeler, second grade teacher at Wing Lake school, who is to be married April 7, was honored Thursday with a party given in the all-purpose room of the school by the children and their mothers.

The long table bearing tea sandwiches, cakes and punch was decorated in pink and white. Miss Wheeler was presented with a gift of a complete matching bath ensemble, even to bathroom scales. She terminated her teaching last Thursday and following her marriage will reside at Devil's lake near Jackson.
