BOB WOOD (left), 4883 Mayflower, Bloomfield Hills, will team up with Johnny Odell of Detroit in a skating number in the Detroit Skating club's annual Ice Festival at Olympia, April 13. Bob's three brothers and parents, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wood also will appear in the ice show. Woman's amateur world figure skating champion Carol Heiss will be the star of the show.

Wood Family Appear In Annual Ice Show

The Detroit Skating club's annual Ice Festival at Olympia, April 13 is a family affair for the Dr. Kenneth Wood family, 4883 Mayflower, Bloomfield Hills.

Dr. and Mrs. Wood and their four sons will appear in the ice show. The boys, Ken 15, Bob 12, Dick 9 and Tim 6, have all won trophies in various skating events.

STAR of this year's show is Carol Heiss of New York who recently defeated Tenley Albright for the woman's world figure skating title.

Miss Albright was the star of the show last year.

The youngest Wood boy, Tim, will be featured in a solo number, and Bob will team up with Johnny Odell of Detroit in a precision figure skating routine.

KEN appears with his father in men's ballet attire and Dick is a torchbearer in an Olympic games number. Dr. and Mrs. Wood appear together in an Anniversary number commemorating the ten years the club has staged shows at Olympia.

Many people from this area will take part in the show including Dean and Susie Heisler of Joanne Court, Bloomfield Hills and Chris Fochman of Wing Lake.

The club sponsors a hockey team in the Detroit recreation league for boys 10-14. The club's Peewee team reached the playoffs this season.

TICKETS for the annual Ice Festival are available at the Detroit Skating club and the Olympia box office.

The show is being staged by Priscilla Snow and Ronnie Baker, the club's skating instructors.

Southfield Thinclads Seek 2nd League Title

Southfield's track team "without a track" continued practice this week for the season opener, April 13 at Hazel Park.

The Jay thinclads which have a track of their own, run all meets on the opposition's field.

STARTING his fourth season as track manager, Monte Charles will be at his second consecutive Inter-Lakes league track title.

Southfield won the crown last year, finished second and third, respectively, the first two years.

Charles expects to be strongest in the distance events this season. Returning from last year are miler Jack Low, Dick Holiday, 880 and Gary Evans, 440.

Sylvan Glen Will Open This Weekend

Sylvan Glen will open the golf season this weekend, weather permitting, according to Bill Catto, veteran pro-manager of the Rochester road course.

Mr. and Mrs. John Irvine are returning as house managers for the second season.

A new cyclone fence has been installed around the entire layout. The course will play as it has in the past, contemplated remodeling of the course will not start until the fall, according to Catto.

CATTO also announced that the Sylvan Glen Co. has purchased the Maple driving range at the corner of East Maple and Stephenson highway.

The range will be operated in conjunction with the golf course. Dick Merritt, well known to Birmingham golfers, will be the manager.

Merritt is a former greenskeeper of the Birmingham Country Club and more recently, owner of the Brooklands Golf and Country Club.

Springdale Park Opens April 14

Springdale Park golf course will open for Birmingham residents, April 14 according to Charles Gale of the city department of parks and forestry.

Entries are being accepted now for men and women's leagues at Springdale this summer. For further information, contact Dale Rolph at Springdale Park.

SPRINGDALE play is limited to residents of Birmingham. Players may purchase a season pass for $25 or pay the daily rates.

Additional picnic and children's play equipment has been installed in the park area, according to Gale.

Ready to go At Glen Oaks

All is in readiness at Glen Oaks Golf Club and as soon as the weather permits, facilities will begin to function at the 18 Mile road layout.

Walter E. Trummer is the new manager, having replaced Ted Maged who transferred to Hillcrest Country Club, Mt. Clemens.

TRUMMER has had wide experience in the hotel and resort business in both this country and Switzerland where he managed resorts at St. Moritz and Geneva. He recently has been manager of the Casino Club in Detroit.

Seve Isakov, returning for the third season as club pro, will take care of all golfing activities. Isakov announced that Sonie Silverman who spent the winter as assistant golf pro at Pensacola Country Club in Florida, will serve in the same capacity at Glen Oaks.

Two new drinking fountains and well have been added to the course, according to Isakov.
