

THIS TIME THINGS are different for children's librarian Mrs. Kathleen Burgess at Baldwin public library. One of the youngsters is showing something to her, a reversal of the usual procedure. Here 11-year-old Larry Warrilow, of 505 Pierce, explains the model of the St. Lawrence seaway which he and his 10-year-old brother, Steve, constructed. The model is currently on display at the library, where Larry read up on the subject before starting the project. Mrs. Burgess says Larry is an avid reader, and that "when he starts something, you can't stop him." The boys worked from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. for two days to make the model.

MRS. HUBERTA J. GOULD, was honored recently by her selection as one of 60 American college students to receive scholarships from the Federal Republic of Germany. The awards, for the 1956-57 academic year, cover tuition, maintenance and travel and are tenable at any institution of higher education in West Germany or West Berlin. Mrs. Gould, the daughter of the Hubert G. Smiths, of 1078 Hazel, Birmingham, is currently working on her master's degree, specializing in language studies, at Wayne university.

GM Institute Graduates Six From B'ham Area

Six men from the Birmingham area were among the 950 persons who this year formed the largest graduating class in the history of the General Motors Institute. Commencement was Friday evening at Atwood stadium.

The graduates were: Carver E. Hendrix, 1561 Lincoln, Birmingham, and William Shepard Wolf, 1975 Graefield, Birmingham, who received one-year certificates for the liberal arts graduate program. John Allen Gibbs, 620 Bloomfield court, Birmingham, received a four-year business administration diploma, and Edwin Hansel Klove Jr., 24850 Cromwell, Franklin, and Donald R. Jones, 588 Purdy, Birmingham, received four-year engineering diplomas.

A two-year dealer certificate was given to Kenneth Ryan Rowden, 19151 Middlesex, Southfield township.

Halloween-Masked Hold-Up Artist Escapes with $200

A Halloween mask and a knife were used by the 20 to 25-year-old man who held up the Hunter House at 150 N. Hunter at 3:50 a.m. last Thursday. Hunter House employee Clara Martin, of Pontiac, told police the man entered the front door and took $200 in bills and coins at knife point.

The employee described the intruder as thin, about 5 feet, 11 inches tall, wearing a grey sweater. Birmingham police immediately secured the help of Bloomfield Hills and Bloomfield township police in making a thorough search for the hold-up man, to no avail.

On Alumni Council

George O. Cutter, 618 Overhill, Bloomfield Hills, has been named to the Bowdoin college alumni council for 1956-57. The council meets on the Bowdoin campus in Brunswick, Maine, three times a year.

Plan Site Purchase For Fire Station

TROY — It appears that the city will acquire a five-acre site at the southwest corner of 16 Mile and Delemere to be the location for Troy's third fire station.

City commission directed City Attorney Jack W. Hutson to purchase the land at $2,250 an acre, or a total of $11,250 which is $1,250 below the owner's original asking price. Troy officials say the owner is willing to take the lesser amount for his property.
