Anthony Rossi Family Home After Three Months Abroad

The tourist traveling in Europe brings back mementos—the inevitable pictures, the bits of bric-a-brac, a small souvenir; but with him, too, are the memories, and the Anthony Rossis of Harsdale are richer in this respect: they had three months abroad to gather such treasures.

Checking at Southampton after five days aboard the Queen Elizabeth, the Rossis stayed in the hotel Savoy in London. They saw the British countryside and were there off for France.

Paris? Of course. And with it all the glamour of the French Riviera—Cannes, Nice (who will forget sipping strong dominos and nibbling French pastry in the spectacular oval lounge of the Negresco?) And there was colorful Monaco.

One can still hear the click of the roulette wheels, see the flash of the croupier's stick, and feel the hushed excitement that surrounds the gaming tables of fabulous Monte Carlo (little luck here, but the thrill of playing was as great as any monetary return).

There was the stay at Hotel de Paris where cinema star Marlene Dietrich and a film company were shooting scenes for "The Monte Carlo Story" right in the lobby.

The Rossis toured Florence, Pisa, Naples, Sorrento, Amalfi and Venice. They dined on the open terrace of the Buca Granucci while gondolas moved slowly through the canals to the strains of "O Sole Mio."

There was a visit to Switzerland, and they loved her beauty and quaintness. For them, too, there was the most cherished of memories: the visit to the Shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes in France, and an audience with His Holiness Pope Pius XII in Rome.

These travelers three come in Trevi Fountain in Rome. Legend says one who does so shall return, and the Anthony Rossis have returned aboard the S. S. United States, and thrilled by the experience Europe gave them, say "here's hoping!"

If the Art Hazemans of Cotnam Lane stay home for a second year's reason. They attended the wedding reception of Herman Lutz's daughter at Oakland Hills on July 21. Then they headed up to the Upper Peninsula for a vacation. Sandy left, too, for camp up at Charlevoix.

Things were in the pink for the John Pizens' steak roast on the 21st. Guests, some 50 of them, gathered at the carriage house home, newly painted baroque with a delicate pink trim. The front

Playground Season Ends With Contests, Games, Fun

Ending the six-week 1956 playground season, under the direction of William McGuire, at Wing Lake school, was Wind-Up day, July 26.

The program started off with a pet show of 20 most interesting. There were pets of all sizes and descriptions including, besides the usual dogs and cats, a horse, rabbits, toads and even a thriving family of termites.

Prize categories were so varied that, fortunately, each child was able to qualify his or her pet in one of them and win a prize.

Next came a baseball game with Quenton which wound up a very successful season for the ball club. Coach Bill Landers' guided his players to six wins and five losses. Top hitters were Rick Fairchild and Doug Nyquist. Paul Engel pitched all games while Bill Austin was catcher. All games were played with the Pontiac recreation league.

There was also a soccer team which played Farmington, Pembroke and Pierce in softball during the season.

The third event of Wind-Up day was the Indian parade down Wing Lake road. For the entire six weeks, the playground children were divided into two teams, the Sioux and the Apaches. Points were scored daily for different events, attendance and participation.

At the close of the season, the score was so close that it was difficult to detect a winner but the Apaches did seem to lead by five points. For the final parade, all children dressed as Indians and paraded together.

Leading the parade were the King and Queen, elected by the kids by ballot. They were Paul Kasameyer king, and Nancy Gould, queen.

The Wind-Up day archery tournament was won by Rick Fairchild in the advanced group and Mary Kerr for the beginners. Seven had entered in the meet.

The final event was a dress-up relay with the boys climbing into girls clothing and the girls having to sit on balloons.

Other scores recorded at the playground's ending were those in ring-pong with Bruce and Nancy Gould the winners and the tennis winners, Sally Briesacher and Susan Heltzer and Jack Edington and Pat Worman. In the elimination tennis tourney, 50 entries started.

The W. Roy Akitt, ranch lane, Lane Pine Village are home from their five-week vacation in the northwest. They were up to Vancouver and Banff. Cowboys at Calgary, Alberta, showed them some of the rough-riding west. There were stampedes and covered-wagon races.

They visited Washington and stayed at the Paradise Inn at Mt. Ranier National Park and at the Canyon Lodge at Yellowstone National Park. Devil's rack in Wyoming caused some comments, so did the blizzard at Estes National Park and the beauty of Sun Valley, Idaho.

Guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. Akitt are the Lewis Bergers of Bridgeville, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Burdige of Lane Pine Village recently were to Lexington with their daughter, Mrs. John Allan.

Little leaguer, Terry McGovern, Maple road, spent Sunday watching the double-header in Detroit.

Showers Given For Bride Elect Carol James

Two showers were given last week for Carol James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen James, Wing Lake road, who will become the bride of William Tyson, Aug. 25. Mrs. Robert Stone entertained at a cocktail party Thursday afternoon in honor of Miss James. A shower gift of a silver-green satin quilt was presented to the bride-to-be by guests: Mesdames Bruce Knight, Bill Drissen, Louis Weimer, Jack Townsend, Joseph Johnson, James C. Allen, Walter Stecker, Fred Ball, Frank Breisacker, W. R. Cole and Glen James, all of Wing Lake.

Miss James was also honored guest at a shower given jointly by Mr. and Mrs. Al Remington and Mr. and Mrs. Randall Crabb Saturday evening.

The party began at the Crabbs' Wing Lake road home with cocktails and hors d'oeuvres. The group then enjoyed a cook-out steak dinner. Both hostesses carried out a color scheme of green and white. Carol was presented with numerous pieces of Revere ware.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Edington, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Atkins, Mrs. Richard Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. Glen James, all of Wing Lake.

Detroit guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Dahl, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Reeves and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Oultjen. From Grosse Pointe Farms were Mr. and Mrs. Ty Tyson, parents of the groom-to-be.
