Luncheon Around Fountain Highlights of Baby Shower

Mrs. Elwood Engel, Franklin road, entertained at a baby shower Aug. 15 for Mrs. Robert Ronney of Detroit. Luncheon was served for the nearly 20 guests in the marble-floored sun room with tables arranged around the center fountain of the room.

A pot of orange-red geraniums centered each table. On the buffet was a flower basket in the form of a baby bannette, covered with lace and containing gift flowers. Overlooking the gift-table was a stork. The guest of honor, before opening each gift, guessed its contents. If she guessed right, the donor was given a gift.

Co-hostess for the party was Mrs. Stefes Wagner of Detroit. Among guests were Mrs. Walter Stecker, Wing Lake road, Mrs. Morton Graddy, Vaughn road, Mrs. Alfred DeLong, mother of the honored guest, Mrs. Engel's mother, Mrs. Charles Imboden and Mr. Engel's mother, Mrs. Edward T. Liess. Also present were Mrs. Engel's two sisters, Miss Ellen Imboden and Mrs. Jack Patterson.

Visiting the Elwood Engels for the past three weeks were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Liess of Miami, Fla.

They have been widely entertained both by the Engels and their friends.

Before Karen left for camp, the Thomas Carter family of Worthington road spent a week-end at Niagara Falls. Karen is now in her second week of a two-week stay at Camp Cavell, YWCA camp north of Lexington. The family will drive there to bring her home this week-end.

Joan Carter and Susan Fraser enjoyed two weeks of Girl Scout day camp at camp Indianwood recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fuller and children, Jim, Bill and Jeanie have just returned from a week spent in the Thousand Islands. While there they stayed with friends at Brockville, Ontario, on the St. Lawrence river.

Jim took his out-board motor and motor boat on a trip to touring around the islands. They did lots of water-skiing, swimming and fishing and Mrs. Fuller spent a morning with her hobby of collecting English bone china.

Recent guests of the Richard Garlicks, Wing Lake road, were the Olin sisters, Mrs. Olin and Mrs. Olin, 15, of Mt. Lebanon, Pa. The girls motored here with their parents, then went on to Chicago while the girls visited.

FAMILY REUNION
Mrs. Wallace Coultis, Wing Lake road, is home from New Grace hospital where she spent three weeks. Although she must remain at home, she is recuperating nicely.

Previous to her illness, she and Dr. Coultis attended the centennial reunion of the Coultis family at Springwater park, Midhurst, Ontario. It marked 100 years since the Coultis family came from Scotland and settled in Canada.

Entertainment at the reunion consisted of a band of bagpipers, sports and a banquet highlighted by a huge cake, seed with scotch and brandy and round tartan. In route to the reunion, the Coultis family came from Scotland and settled in Canada.

Houseguests of Dr. and Mrs. Coultis for the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Roberts of St. Catherine. Mr. Roberts is Mrs. Coultis' brother.

Traveling by train, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Gosling, Indianwood Trail, recently went to California to visit their daughter, Lenore Gosling an engineer with Librascope Co. in Hollywood.

From there they visited Mrs. Gosling's youngest brother, Wilford Constable in Long Beach. Then came a visit with a relative quite unknown to them until they went to check into his motel at Warm Springs.

As they registered, he asked if they knew someone he knew from around Detroit who is his uncle. "Why yes," Mrs. Gosling said, "he's my uncle too." This focus sprang up on the spot for two happy people.

In San Francisco they visited a niece, Mrs. George McLane and her new baby. From there they went to Santa Barbara where they visited friends, formerly of Bloomfield, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walther. Walther is now retired from General Motors. They have a beautiful home overlooking the ocean.

It is the gravest kind of wrong, not only to the children, but to the whole community, to turn the boys and girls, especially in congested parts of the city, with no place to play but in the streets—Theodore Roosevelt.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Robinson have as house guest Mrs. Jean Learn and her young son Marty, from Washington, D. C. This weekend they are expecting Mrs. Robinson's sister and her husband, Major and Mrs. C. E. Edwards, from California.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Egan and family are spending the week at Meaford, Ont. An Georgian Bay Myrna Schoenberg is their guest. Mrs. George Gerlach entertained 17 members of the Southfield Republican club at a pot luck luncheon last week at her home on Captain's lane.

Arriving this weekend to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scelaro, Briarcliff, will be Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Bentley of Pontiac, Ill.

Barbara Williams, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Williams of Lucerne road, will represent Oakland Hills country club in the inter-club finals to be held at Red Run country club next Saturday and Sunday. In the butterfly breast stroke race.

After spending a month with her family on the eastern shore of Maryland, Mrs. Robert Arney and her two daughters have returned to Franklin. They brought with them Mrs. Herley's mother, Mrs. Charles Snider and her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Caldrider and daughter, Peggy.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kreeger, scenic drive, spent Sunday with friends near Kinsey, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dudson are their two daughters, Gale and Angela, have returned from their vacation at Glen Arbor on Glen lake.

Franklin School Room Mothers Are Announced

New Chairmen, Scoutmaster Named for Scout Troop B-11

Franklin boy scouts, troop B-11. He will be Don Horton and Don Tracy.

Mr. DeOrlow has been interested in scouting ever since he was old enough to join a troop. After becoming an Eagle scout, he worked as a counselor at Camp Dowell while still in school.

He has had two troops in Detroit, and was later scoutmaster at Adams school, Birmingham. For two years he was the explorer advisor at Adams and enjoys keeping in touch with those boys, most of whom are now in college.

Mr. DeOrlow is assistant cashier for the Manufacturers National bank.

A vote of thanks should go to Mrs. DeOrlow who has been more or less a "scout" widow for years. This year the troop will meet at Franklin Community church on Monday nights.

H. Barrett will be chairman of the B-11 troop committee; John Runmeyer, vice chairman; Burt Coakley, treasurer; and George Altman, manager. Duane Larkins is camp chairman, assisted by Ken Bristol and Bob Vingling. John Faulkner is in charge of advancement, assisted by Harold Dillow, Bill Worcester is the membership chairman.

John Hill will take care of the program. Rev. Albert Seers is the morale chairman, and James Washburne is institutional representative.

It is again time to think of the AAMU book sale which this year will be Oct. 21-26. If you have any books to donate, call Mrs. R. J. M. Sullivan, or take them directly to the home of Mrs. John Sullivan, 12, LaFontaine, or Miss Jean Marson.

Visiting in the area last week was Mrs. Pat Ryan, formerly of Canterbury road, and now living in Warm Springs.

Trying out their new barbecue pit, the Norman Meyers entertained Sunday night. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rogamer, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dillow, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Vocler.

The William Wheeler family has returned to their Wing Lake road home after spending a vacation at Lake Geneva.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Shoemaker, Riverwood drive, had as their house guest last week Mrs. J. M. Miller of South Bend, Ind.

Round-Up to Be Bigger and Better Say Chairmen

FRANKLIN—Robert Kerr and Harold Anderson, co-chairmen of the annual Franklin round-up and barbecue, report this year's event will be the biggest and best ever. Activities will start at 10:30 a.m., Sept. 8, with a little league all-star baseball game. According to James O'Neill, the 40 boys who have been selected to play will give the spectators a real thriller.

Grant Siver, chairman of the food committee has ordered over 700 pounds of grade A beef for the barbecue. Mr. and Mrs. Chet Hard are in charge of the midway, and are planning other games and contests to keep the children busy all afternoon.

Len Mader, president of the Men's Association, will announce all committee chairmen by next week.

The Charles Plank family from Lathrup Village moved into the former Baxley home on Whitley road recently. They have four children: Janice, 6; Christine, 4; David, 2; and Linda, just 6 months old.

The Planks have many different hobbies. They're both enthusiastic about hunting and fishing, especially with bow and arrow. Mr. Plank is looking forward to setting up his trout room again and taking pictures of Franklin.

Mrs. Plank (Marilyn), who did graduate work at the U of M in interior decorating, is anxious to try her ideas in her new home. She's also interested in art, and likes to paint in oil.

Mr. Plank graduated from Denison and Ohio State law school. He is now in the insurance business, and is owner of the Detroit Home agency. Mrs. Plank attended Denison and was graduated from Wellsley.

Mrs. Earl Cote, Wing Lake road, recently flew to San Diego to visit her daughter and son-in-law, Ensign and Mrs. John Snyder. Ensign Snyder is now in Japan, but is hoping his ship will be sent to Australia in time for the Olympics. Mrs. Cote and Mrs. Snyder are driving leisurely back to Franklin, and doing some sight seeing on the way.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Henkel and children spent last weekend at Belaire, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Robinson have as house guest Mrs. Jean Learn and her young son Marty, from Washington, D. C. This weekend they are expecting Mrs. Robinson's sister and her husband, Major and Mrs. C. E. Edwards, from California.
