

DISCUSSING PLANS for the dinner dance to be held at Gilford Inn in Sarnia at the close of the tennis season in September are members of the Birmingham Tennis club. Mrs. Fred H. Cowin, 759 Half Moon road, was hostess to the group. From left are Mrs. Scott Hayes, Mrs. Thomas Allen, Jr., Mrs. Frank Treco, Mrs. John Graham, Mrs. Fred Cowin and Mrs. Albert Holmes. Others present for the discussion were Douglas Howell, Sam Walker, Jr., Leon Bramley and Fred Cowin. Another event to precede the dinner dance will be the inter-club match next week at which time the men's singles trophy will be awarded. A familiar sight at the Kingswood tennis courts where the group plays is "Daniel", the Treco's dog and "Bruce", the Holmes' dog.

Rivest-Prance Marriage At St. Hugo-of-the-Hills

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nicholas Rivest will reside in Lansing when they return from a northern Michigan and Canadian honeymoon.

Their marriage was solemnized Saturday at St. Hugo of the Hills church with a reception in Red Run Golf club.

THE BRIDE is the former Donna Jeanne Prance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Prance of Kirkway, Bloomfield Hills. Mr. and Mrs. Lee A. Rivest of Royal Oak are parents of the groom.

Embroidered Swiss organdy over taffeta fashioned the bridal gown, designed with short sleeves, square neckline and bouffant skirt. Her fingertip length veil fell from a cloche of lace and sequins.

* PINK ballerina dresses with matching picture hats were worn by the attendants, Janette Stephens as maid of honor, and Mrs. John Wake, Mrs. Grady O. Robertson and Judy Seaborn as bridesmaids. They carried roses, daisies and gladioli in straw baskets.

Herbert Abrash was best man and serving as usher were William D. Glaspie, Morgan A. Davis and James C. Rivest.

Ball Will Be Cabaret Style

The Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra will take over Alfanti's Restaurant, Sat. Aug. 25, at 8 P.M. for a cabaret style dinner-dance staged in the Italian manner.

These accomplished party-givers, whose Symphony Ball early in the year was the last word in elegant formality, will offer a complete change of pace for the evening. The party is for association members and friends and will benefit the Detroit Symphony.

Plans call for spaghetti, steak, checked tablecloths, candles and strolling Neapolitan singers. The plush supper club will be made bright and gay with decorations in black, white and red.

Mrs. Joseph E. Cavanaugh, party chairman, will add a final note of authenticity to the Italian theme with a special new Roman haircut. Local committee heads include Mrs. Frank E. Dunford, 16006 Elizabeth, Southfield township, and James O. Nordlie, 1695 Stanley, Birmingham.

Committee members include Mrs. H. Stanley Maxon, Jr., 32570 West Lake, Mrs. Harry A. McDonald, Jr., 846 Jonathan lane, Bloomfield township, and Mrs. Willard W. Wicklund, 895 Harshale, Bloomfield township.

Have You Met . . .

Mr. and Mrs. William E. McClaren, the new residents on West Breckenridge lane in Birmingham? The McClarens, who have three children, Daniel, 9, Marie, 6, and Terry, 4½, moved here recently from Silver Spring, Md. He is supervisor of business management for General Motors Photographic.

Parties Honor Sylvia Morris

Latest in a series of pre-nuptial parties honoring bride-elect Sylvia Ann Morris was the luncheon and shower Tuesday at the Detroit Boat club with Mrs. H. T. Brettle of Hillcrest Blvd., Birmingham, as the hostess.

Mrs. Frank S. Cartwright and her daughter Margaret invited friends to a luncheon and bathroom and closet shower Saturday in their home in Ferndale, and tomorrow, Mrs. Jean Graham and her daughters, Mrs. Jack Logsdon and Mrs. Howard Caudle, will entertain at a luncheon and kitchen shower for Sylvia in the Graham home in Milford.

MRS. John R. Koch of Orchard Lake has planned a party for Thursday and Mrs. Amos F. Gregory, Jr. of Eton road, who is to arrive as matron of honor for Sylvia, will have the spinsters' dinner Sept. 6.

Birmingham's First Presbyterian church is to be the scene of Sylvia's Sept. 8 marriage to John J. Dyer, Jr., son of the John J. Dyer of Graefield road. The bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Morris of Saffold road, will host the wedding reception in Red Run Golf club.

MRS. DYER introduced her prospective daughter-in-law to friends at a tea in Red Run Golf club and Mrs. H. A. McFetters of Detroit Yacht club was the setting for another luncheon and shower in her home in the Detroit Golf club.

Iste Royale Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene E. Hess of Buckingham road are back on the Birmingham scene after a "wonderful" vacation at Rock Harbor Lodge on beautiful Iste Royale in Lake Superior. Leaving from Houghton, it's an eight-hour trip by boat to the isle which is fast becoming a popular vacation spot.

BIRTHS

A daughter, Marcee Lynne, was born August 5 to LT. AND MRS. WILLIAM M. MOLLISON of Kallerslueten, Germany. Mrs. Mollison is the former Beverly J. Nordstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Nordstrom of North Glenhurst, Bloomfield Village.

A daughter, Cynthia Lynn, was born August 9 to MR. AND MRS. GEORGE F. SEAY of Manchester street, Birmingham. Mrs. Seay is the former Arlyne Brown, daughter of the Emerson C. Browns of Brookside street.
