Princeton Prep Shop Opens in Birmingham

Princeton Prep Shop, a landmark for men shoppers at Michigan and Woodward avenues across from the old city hall in Detroit since 1921, opened a new shop last Thursday at 237 Pierce street.

DUNCAN HELMRICH

Helmrich Promoted

Duncan B. Helmrich, 2623 Buckingham, has been appointed assistant administration superintendent of the Michigan Bell-public relations department, it was announced recently.

Formerly chairman of the Birmingham high school English department, Helmrich joined Michigan Bell's public relations department as magazine writer in 1954.

Recognizing the growing trading area that Birmingham offered, and the tremendous increase in boys' population, Princeton decided to locate here with the only store in Birmingham devoted exclusively to boys' and young men's clothing, from ages 6 to 22.

As a feature of the opening, Princeton is giving away a Thunderbird Junior, a battery-powered model auto, at a drawing to take place Sept. 15 at the Bloomfield theater.

FREE TICKETS for the matinee may be obtained at the Princeton Prep Shop with no obligations. Mr. Wixie of WXYZ's "Wixie Wonderland" will put on a show for the kids and conduct the drawing.

Princeton's newest shop is managed by Bill Wisner, with the organization since his graduation from Wayne University in 1951. Assistant manager is George McGinnis, former Redford football star.

Advance styles in the apparel field and personalized service are Princeton features, as well as fitting "difficult" sizes for "slims" and "chusks."

Exterior of Princeton's building is early colonial motif, while the interior is modern in decor. The store is laid out for ease of customer service and lends itself to casual shopping or to "just browsing around."

WHITE DOOR of the recently opened Princeton Prep shop is flanked on each side by large full glass display windows. The Princeton shop and the Doubleday store are side by side.
