Ben Hardesty to Compete In Fly-Casting Tournament

Five-time national fly-casting champ, Ben Hardesty left Saturday to compete in the national casting tournament to be held in San Francisco. Ben was unable to defend his champ status last year because he was busy with his family getting settled in their new home on Gilbert Lake.

He plans to stop off and attend the tackle show at Chicago before heading out to the west coast. Lone Pine Village's Fred Hanna has been "hacking" it and will probably do so until school starts, too. Millie Hanna and the two boys have been spending most of the summer at their cottage near Traverse City.

Fred was there with the family one weekend and met Hollywood's character actor and funny man, Frank McHugh, who is working the straw-hat circuit around Traverse City.

Proximity to golf courses seems, quite naturally, to produce good golfers among the young set.

There's the Harvey Ewald's young Freddy who is very much at home on the fairway; the Albert Badger's Bud, who wins awards for Bloomfield high; the Walter Burkom's young clan, born to the art of putter play; and the Gerald Johnson's eight-year-old Jerry, who netted with his partner, Mrs. William E. Johnston, an 81 in the Junior District Golf Association held at Red Run July 30.

Chuck Livingston, 5, and one of the youngest to compete in the recent father-and-son tournament at Pine Lake country club, played again Sunday with his father, Charles Livingston of Shadow lane, in club competition and made an excellent showing.

The Exchange club had a sunny day for their annual big gathering swimming in the Campian pool, were entertained by the Robert Schullers of Ranch lane, and were down to Snowshoe circle to say "hello" to the Jack Steans.

The Frank Martins' young Dan is away to New York City this week (if you gonna see the Empire State building just as soon as I get there). Grandmother Mrs. Florence Parks of Detroit, is the one who made this trip possible.

Little Dan lives on Lahser road. "Punch" Lindbloom and her chum, Suzanne Boyd of Bloomfield Hills, have gone to North Carolina, and their friends here won't be seeing them before the clang of the school bell.

The Fred Lindbloom's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Pepler (he's the coach at North Carolina State college) were here for a visit with their four children—Pamela, Susie, Walter and Terry. Lee. "Punch" and Suzanne returned to Raleigh with them.

A postcard picturing the Cathedral of Notre Dame tells that Bill and Betty Shaw of Jonathan lane are touring the continent in a Simca, a small French car. The Shaws would like to bring one of these foreign cars back with them. Their air trip from Wayne major airport to Shannon, Ireland, was according to their pilot, a record (9 hours, 55 minutes). Next stop for them at that writing was Brussels.

Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin Sinnave will entertain 20 guests at a cook-out this Sunday at their Maple road home. The Sinnaves will vacation in Chicago this coming week, and will visit former Wing Lake friends now living there.

A guest last week of Mr. and Mrs. Phil McGovern of Maple road was Mrs. Gertrude Galey, a former neighbor from Park Forest, Ill.

Weekend guests at the William Maucks of East Miller way were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Carnegie with their children—Linda, Deagle and Davy of Ft. Wayne, Ind.

MRS. STEPHEN DOUGHERTY

Dougherty-Maronick United In Greenfield Village Chapel

Martha Mary Chapel of Greenfield Village in Dearborn was the scene of the Saturday afternoon wedding of Dolores Maronick, of Dearborn, to Stephen Dougherty, with MacManus, John and Adams and former Bloomfield resident.

Only members of the two families and a few close friends witnessed the double ring ceremony performed by Dr. Tracy H. Pullman. A garden reception and buffet supper were held at the Newton Place, home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Denys J. Maronick, Dearborn.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Dougherty of Minneapolis, Minn.

A PRINCESS styled gown of traditional white satin with a medium length train was worn by the bride. A fingertip veil with cap of Brussels lace and a bouquet of California lilies completed the ensemble.

Nancy Maronick was her sister's only attendant. Her aqua taffeta gown also followed princess lines and was complemented by a parasol bouquet of daisies.

The bridegroom asked his new brother-in-law Greg D. Maronick to serve as best man. Seating guests were John J. Sheridan, Baltimore, Md., and John E. Buss, Salsina.

Following their wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Dougherty left for a two weeks trip to Canada.

3 Make All A's Spring Semester

Three Birmingham area students at the University of Michigan earned all "A's" for the spring semester.

The honor students are: June graduate Eugene Marie Reagan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard I. Reagan, 1070 Dunblaine, Birmingham; Ellen Louise Schreiber, freshman and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schreiber, 18151 Runnybrook, Lathrup Village, and Richard Robert Silbar, freshman and son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Silbar, 808 Madison, Birmingham.

Have You Met . . .

The new residents on Maple road? They are Mr. and Mrs. John Gordon who moved here in July from Detroit. Mr. Gordon is retired and his wife is a Detroit public school administrator.

Society deadline is 3 p.m. each Tuesday.
