Engineers
At Home
Gathering

HOSTS Mr. and Mrs. Dadd, center, greet Haruo Kurita, a water treatment engineer (right) and Akira Ochi, a glass engineer. The Japanese team of 12 is the 22nd group to visit this country under the ICA program since June 1955. Visiting plants from coast to coast, the group is interested in the field of fuel combustion, heat and the generation of power. Mr. Dadd is a combustion engineer with Island Creek Coal Sales Co., Detroit.

FOURTEEN Japanese in the U.S. for a two month visit were entertained Sunday evening by the Melvin Dadd family of Madison avenue. Here to visit industrial plants under the U. S. International Cooperation Administration, the group of Japanese engineers were accompanied by two Japanese interpreters, Midge Dadd and her brother Alan pinned name tags on their oriental guests as they arrived. From left of Midge are Hiroshi Nishimura, a steam power plant engineer; Makoto Taji, interpreter; and Kazuo Totoki, an industrial ceramic engineer.
