People's Column

Franklin Church Fair Chairman Expresses Thanks

To the Editor: I want to express my sincere thanks to you for your help in bringing the Christmas Fair of Franklin Community church to the attention of the community through your newspaper. We have deeply appreciated your cooperation.

Walter Burkeno, the Franklin Hills pro, will be honored to spend Christmas with his family on Snow-shoe circle. After the tournament around Wally went to Havana, and he left Cuba last week for Florida and then the Janet homeward.

Lucien Lamoureux of Thorncrest has been busy. Having just been made president of his company, a Detroit concern, he will head the newly-formed Thorncrest Improvement association which held its first meeting at Oakland Hills Country club in November.

Mrs. Willis Wagner, Mrs. Bernard Magruder, Mrs. Hadden DeVine were present at the meeting to support the appointment of Mrs. Adelaide Layman, village council candidate last March, to fill the vacancy of F. Menzies, maker, who resigned his council post in November.

The gathering at the George MacDuff home on Shadow lane last evening was a Christmas party for members of the St. David's Guild of Holy Name church.

The Richard Krates of Shadow lane returned last weekend from New York City where they attended the national automobile convention.

Thank you all who supported the Fair by attending. MARY E. WASHBURN (Chairman of Christmas Fair, Franklin Community church)

FOR A LARGE HAPPY FAMILY!

AND/OR the host and hostess who love to entertain graciously. There is plenty of room in this solidly constructed home for both plenty of family life and "company", without an interfering with the other. In Bloomfield Hills, on the crown of a hill in the center of an almost 6-acre site, there is a view from every room of the lovely gardens and plantings of specimen shrubs and trees, a garden pool and the surrounding countryside.
