Townsend, Birmingham, told police he was crossing Hunter at the Hamilton crossover. The truck, used by Cornell in his painting work, was a total loss. The impact threw Cornell's tool box off the car seat beside him and through the windshield, landing it in the rear of the Hunter House hamburger grill, near which the truck stopped. Several tools careened through the restaurant's glass front door. Cornell escaped with only a minor cut. "It just wasn't my time to go," was his reaction.

BITS OF BIRMINGHAM

ONE CAN NEVER foresee where the wanderlust of little children will lead them. Less-than-three-year-old Stevie Averil, 2534 Manchester, recently accompanied his mother to a local chain grocery store and, while waiting in line to have the merchandise paid for, Stevie disappeared. Practically all the clerks and some of the customers entered into the search. Every square foot of the store and stockroom was gone over, and several even went outside to see if the wanderer was there. Stevie had completely disappeared... until his mother thought of the telephone booth inside the store. Its door was closed, but there was Stevie... calmly sitting on the floor... perhaps, (as his dad later opined) thinking about a time some years hence when he would be putting through a call to some young woman—and acclimatizing himself to the tendency for young girls to keep a fella many minutes at a telephone!

LIKE TO GIVE a basket of food, some clothes or toys, or all three, to a needy family? You can through the Pontiac office of the Salvation Army. In order to head off as much duplication as possible, the SA is this area's receiving point for such gifts. Mrs. Merritt Cooley is the one to contact at Federal 2-6963.

"IT'S SO NICE TO HAVE a WOMAN around the house" is the paraphrase of a recently popular song now being hummed by Howard Holah, 280 Euclid, Birmingham. Long-time Birmingham theater manager now

A SEGMENT OF ONE of the most exclusive and unique clubs in America met at Bloomfield Hills Country club last week for a Christmas dinner. Known as the Young Presidents Organization, club by-laws stipulate, each member must be president of his company; be 40 years old or younger; have a minimum of 50 payroll employees, and a minimum company sales of one million dollars. Membership exceeds the thousand mark, with the Birmingham-Detroit area providing over 50 of them.

DETROIT'S CONSULAR GROUP—those representatives of foreign nations which maintain offices in Detroit—came to Birmingham Sunday afternoon for a Christmas party at the Charing Cross residence of Danish consul George P. Everson, of Bloomfield Township. Among consuls present, with their wives, were Jean Desparmet of France, Norman Brinkhart of Austria, Ferdinand Friedensborg and Heinz Kruse of Germany, Edward H. Moss of England, Dr. Antonio Carloni of Italy, William Caswell of Norway, Edward Johansson of Sweden and Henri Verjo of Finland. The Eversons left today for Los Angeles to spend the holidays with their son, Richard, and his family, and then will be off to Honolulu for a vacation.

BIRMINGHAM Humane society president, Mrs. Karl E. Koehler, reports she has free Christmas presents to give away. Dogs of assorted breeds, sizes, colors and ages are awaiting good homes and anyone wanting a four-footed Christmas gift should contact her.

MISS THE FAMILIAR Christmas music in downtown Birmingham? So do many other folks. But there's a good reason—the police department doesn't have any men to spare for this job this year. Three of them are on sick list... so the regular work comes first for the rest of the force. Maybe next year, they hope.

THOUGH THE CROWD is not so heavy that children have to wait in line to see Santa Claus at his "Shopper Stop", the photographer there each day has snapped 75 to 100 pictures of youngsters with St. Nick. Santa tells us the children's reactions to him are varied and include awe, love, sometimes fear, but mostly a hearty friendliness. Parents and adult shoppers' reactions to the free coffee and doughnuts at the resting place has been enthusiastic. The Shopper Stop at 243-247 W. Maple, next to Kresge's, is open today and tomorrow from 2 to 8 p.m., and from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday.
