

SOUTHFIELD HI NOTES

Mistletoe Magic—the name alone should bring out every student at Southfield. Planned by the major class, the dance will be held in the school gym tomorrow evening from 8 to 11. There'll be music by the Jerry K. Combo. Plans are being made by Mike Larson, class president, and Dana Douglas, general chairman, assisted by Connie Wardle, Sharon Bradley, Beverly Keenan, Judy Bryson and Judy Luhrs. Virginia Bryan, of the high school staff, is advising on arrangements.

Rita Preybryla of the English department will spend her Christmas holiday with her family in Rogers City.

Teachers Celebrate Christmas at Party

Proving that a teacher's job is not all hard work were teachers from various Birmingham schools, Normandy Inn was the scene of the merry-making Friday night.

The Christmas party consisted of a chicken dinner followed by dancing and singing carols.

Social committee members who planned the party were Miss Dixie Johnson, Robert Richards, George Cooch, Angelo Angelucci and Miss Virginia Louis, chairman.

BARNUM JUNIOR HIGH NEWS

Many homerooms at Barnum junior high school have Christmas projects.

Members of homeroom 110 are supplying individually wrapped birthday gifts for the Baptist Children's home on 13 Mile road. These gifts, selected for children between the ages of five and ten, will be distributed throughout the year on birthdays.

Homeroom 217 is collecting money for the Organization for the Mentally Handicapped school. They plan to buy equipment for handicraft materials. Some members of the class will attend a party at the school tomorrow to sing for and with the children.

Members of homeroom 144-A are making shadow boxes, which they plan to send to a child's home.

Homeroom 141-B is collecting money for Christmas gifts for a needy family.

Students in homeroom 141 are making boat models for children in Beaumont hospital.

Homeroom 222 is collecting money for Care.

Members of Homeroom 206 are collecting clothing, toys, and food for a family with four children, two are the victims of cerebral palsy.

Homeroom 207 is making a basket for a girl who has been ill for a long time. Art room 5 is sending infant layettes to the Children's Aid society. Homeroom 109 is giving food baskets and gifts to a needy family. 205 is helping a needy family in Pontiac with gifts and food.

Homeroom 216 provided decorations and trimmed a tree for the Child Guidance clinic. Homeroom 224, one of the homemaking rooms, is giving clothes to a family with three children. Homeroom 226 is giving dolls, books, and toys to children at the Michigan Children's Aid society.

Little Tommy, who is at the Society for Crippled Children, will be happy when he receives clothes and toys from homeroom 122.

Recently the ninth grade choir and girls' ensemble presented their annual program for the Birmingham Exchange club.

Soloists in the group included Gordon Schick, Tom Allore, Anne Bailey, and Lynn Zerby.

In the girls' ensemble are Jean Buchanan, Chris Schad, Nancy Wesch, Betty Jean Shea, Anne Hester, Lynn Zerby, Anne Bailey, and Kenolva Cowan.

The eighth grade choir sings at Beaumont hospital today. Soloists for the Christmas concert are Betty Shea, Kemi Cowan, Anne Bailey, Tom Allore, Gordon Schick, and George Smith.

Bailey, Dailey Write Top Rhymes In Safety Contest

Even the winner's names rhymed in the safety limerick contest held recently at Eastover school in Bloomfield Hills. Sixth graders Chuck Bailey and Byron Dailey submitted three limericks which the judges considered particularly safety-inspiring:

Running in the hall, this boy Bill
Missed the steps and took a spill
The story is plain
If you listen again
You can break your face
And we don't have any spares.

Chuck Bailey

Learning backward in your chairs
Is like double-stepping stairs
And in each case
You can break your face
And we don't have any spares.

Chuck Bailey

There was a young boy from Texas
Whose father drove very reckless
He went over the edge

BHS Students Give to Three Yule Projects

The spirit of Christmas found its way into Birmingham high school this year with nearly every organization in school planning a charitable project.

Student Congress could not decide among three worthy projects; baskets for the Salvation Army, money and clothes for Hungarian relief, and contributions to a fund for George Miller, former teacher at the high school who is ill in Beaumont hospital.

Finally Student Congress gave homerooms the opportunity to choose any of the three projects.

The spirit of giving began early and is continuing with mounting enthusiasm. The Business club and RST contributed money to Care for Hungarian relief.

Mr. Petrakis's homeroom donated $100 to the George Miller fund.

BHS Jamaican Group Makes Appearances At Holiday Events

The Matistes, a Jamaican calypso group which got its start in the Birmingham high school variety show, have a busy schedule planned for the holiday season.

Friday night they sang for the winter dance at Barnum junior high school and Monday for the Walled Lake Rotary club.

Members of the group are Don Booth, lead; Bob Sawyer, Linda Bliss, Jim McDonald, Sue Bollinger, Tim Usher, and Lee Carkees, business manager.

During the holidays they will sing for the New Year's dance and probably for radio station WPON.

The Matistes also sing for private parties.

And Mr. Buell's homeroom collected canned goods for the Miller family. Adding a personal touch, Mr. Miller's old homeroom, who knew him better than others, gave him a bulletin board with all their senior pictures, as a Christmas gift.
