To Broadcast BHS Talent Show

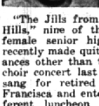

Students of Birmingham high school are looking forward to a student talent broadcast.

Under direction of Mrs. Monzelle Clark, radio speech instructor, the show will be broadcast on station WCAE at 10:30 a.m., Jan. 3, for a 15 minute show, while station WPNW will have a 30 minute show at 9:30 a.m., Jan. 1.

Groups participating are the Jumanica farewell, girls' ensemble; Jean Vandekerck, Connie Shroyer, Katherine Garret, Bob Sawyer and Sue Bollinger, singers; Evelyn Crouch, Don Nichols, Don Andreae and Diane Longeway, pianists.

Bloomfield Hills Billboard

By Barbara VAN DYK

"The Hills from Bloomfield Hills," nine of the best blending female voices high voices, have recently made quite a few appearances other than the annual choir concert last Thursday. They sang for retired ladies at Villa Franciscana and entertained two different luncheon groups at Red Run golf club Friday.

Only Tish Pinney, Cappy Booth and Janet Richards are singing in the group for the second consecutive year. Janet Morrison, Laurie Pinkerton, Sue Grant, Sue Sundberg, Penny Holloway, and Carol Stevens are in their first year as members.

The girls are directed by Clarence Luchman who teaches all other vocal music at the school too.

Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Jesson, of 1508 Sodon Lake road, graciously held open house for choir members Thursday night after the concert. Their daughter, Sue, is a junior and a member of the first choir at BHS.

Also pertaining to the concert: Mr. Clarence Luchman was given luggage by all members of the senior high choir classes just before he went on stage to direct singing in "Notes of Holiday Cheer." It was a two-sitter, presented by Mary Lou Darnell.

BHS cheerleaders were given a pleasant surprise Friday night when Barb Woodson, home from college for the holidays, agreed to fill in for Gwen Gallo, who was out of town. Barb was captain of the cheerleading squad for two years before she graduated.

A sports assembly was held Friday morning in the gym. Miss John Stierlet gave field hockey awards to the 1956 team. Ellen Strong, Nancy Brown and Judi Beasley were the only three who had been on the team for their full four years of high school.

Mr. Hobart Doerr gave small letters to junior high players on the sub-middler football team.

The junior varsity, or middler team, members received their letters from the co-captains for the year. John Paige and Sam Reeve.

Mr. Don Hoff presented awards to the varsity squad with recognition given to Jim Jones, captain. He introduced next year's captain, Jim Kearney, who in his acceptance speech, said he would do his best to make the team keep up with the five won and three lost record for this year.

The assembly brought the end of "B-Club" initiations.

4 Candidates Chosen at BHS For AFS Program

Could you be happy in a home with no inside conveniences? This was one of the many questions asked applicants for the American Field Service summer program abroad.

From the 21 applicants the 13-member AFS screening committee chose four students whose names and qualifications will be sent to AFS New York headquarters. Chosen were Julie Hoover, Betty Nichols, Peter Brink and Bob Benson.

In choosing the candidates the committee considered such features as reliability, personal integrity and appearance, leadership, emotional stability, courtesy, tact, initiative, respect for authority, and ability to meet new people.

Members of the AFS screening committee are Mrs. Alice Tabor, district chairman; Mrs. Carol Darling and Robert Richards, Congress advisers; Hely Heldestein and Tom da Fonseca, 1956-57 foreign exchange students in Birmingham; Sue Tabor and Don Thalacker, who went abroad on the summer program last year; Pat Berry, vice president of Student Congress acting for Don Thalacker, president, who was unable to be present; Paula Struck, student chairman of AFS, and Beverly Ford, Sally Hanson, Jane Severs, Fred Finkensauer, and Ken Hogan, members of Student Congress.
