Charles Hallock And Wife Succumb

Three days following the death of Charles J. Hallock, 88, his 90-year-old wife died today. They had been ill for many years. Married Oct. 26, 1898, in Cass City, Mo., they had three children and made their home at 691 Ann street.

Hallock, the former Alice Ida Moore, was born March 1, 1867, in Lapeer County, and died Sunday. She was a member of Birmingham lodge 220, O.E.S., and the Philomathean club.

A retired builder, Mr. Hallock was born Feb. 3, 1868, in Steuben County, N. Y., and passed away Nov. 29. He was a lifetime member of Birmingham lodge 44, F & A.M.

THEY LEAVE two daughters, Mrs. Stephen Hickmott of Milford and Mrs. Helen H. Hallock of Birmingham, a son, Clark, of Birmingham, four grandchildren and six great grandchildren. Mr. Hallock is also survived by three brothers, Halsey of Jackson, Arch of Royal Oak and Fred of Oak Orion, and a sister, Mrs. Anjola Gowing of Highland Park.

Glen Harris of First Presbyterian church, where the deceased were members, officiated at the funeral on Saturday for Mr. Hallock and on Tuesday for Mrs. Hallock, at Manley Bailey funeral home, with interment in Roseland Park cemetery.

MRS. J. ROY RIDLEY (Florence May), 72, of Detroit, died Nov. 28 at Grace hospital. Born July 1, 1884, she had lived in the Detroit area 49 years.

Surviving are a son, John C. of Birmingham, and two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Kolb and Mrs. Florence Mabey.

Services were Friday from the Northwest chapel of W. R. Hamilton Co., 15000 James Court, with interment in Evergreen cemetery.

FRANK BROMLEY FLEMING, 68, of Highland Park, died Nov. 28 at Lakeridge hospital in Paw Paw, Mich., where he maintained a summer home.

A retired automobile dealer, he was born in Chicago, Ill., and had been a Detroit area resident for 40 years.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret, three sons, Thomas R. of Birmingham, Clark of Chicago and Francis A. of Washington, D. C., and a daughter, Mrs. Edward M. Shechart, Jr., of Berkley. Also surviving are a brother, Russell W. of Detroit, and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were Saturday from the chapel of W. R. Hamilton Co., 2075 Cass avenue, Detroit. Burial was in Woodlawn cemetery. Rev. Robert Dewey of the Congregational church of Birmingham, officiated.

NORMAN HELWIG, 60, of 1620 Williamsburg road, Mount Lebanon, Pa., died Friday at his home. He had been with General Motors Corp. 28 years and was a Birmingham resident before opening a Pontiac agency in 1947 at Mount Lebanon.

Mr. Helwig was a member of First Church of Christ Scientist. He is survived by his wife, Kate Baxter Helwig, and a daughter, Mrs. Martha Sieglitz.

Funeral services and burial were in Pittsburgh.

4 Key Executives
Get Promotions
At Hills Agency

A. Jones, president of MacManus, John & Adams, Inc., this week announced the promotion of four of the agency's key executives and a board realignment of executive responsibility.

Charles F. Adams becomes executive assistant to the president and account supervisor on the Cadillac Motor account.

Hovey Hagerman, executive officer on the Pontiac Motor account, becomes senior vice president.

Fred J. Hatch, general manager, becomes a director.

Leo Hillebrand, financial officer, becomes secretary-treasurer.

At the same time Jones announced the activation of two executive groups to supervise internal operations of the agency. One, the administrative supervisory staff, is to be headed by Adams. Its members, all vice presidents, and their amplified responsibilities are: John R. MacManus, executive vice president and coordinator of branch office activities; Fred J. Hatch, internal planning and administration; Frank Skinner, supervisor of public relations; and Robert L. Garrison, supervisor of business expansion and development staff.

To chart business trends and opportunities, Jones has appointed an advisory staff headed by W. A. P. Hahn, co-founder of the agency and chairman-emeritus. Members are to be headed by Adams, Hovey Hagerman and William B. Bachman, Jr.
