Woman's Club Holds Fashion Show at Oakland Hills, Dec. 13

Lathrup Woman's club Christmas party will be a gala affair held at Oakland Hills country club on Thursday, Dec. 13, at 12:30 p.m. Feature of the afternoon will be a style show by Davidson's of Birmingham with local models showing the newest in cruise wear and holiday cocktail gowns.

Modeling in the fashion show will be Mrs. Robert Angrave, Mrs. Gordon Appolquist, Mrs. Cameron Beck, Mrs. Charles Barber, Mrs. George Barnham, Mrs. Paul Butcher, Mrs. Howard Cole, Mrs. Fred Cummings, Mrs. Clarence De Great, Mrs. William Krounager, Mrs. Robert Ofsenstein, Mrs. Stephen Slavik and Mrs. William Tucker.

Hostess for the party is Mrs. Charles C. Cupp, assisted by Mrs. James Latham. On their committee are Mrs. Howard Cole, Mrs. William Devin and Mrs. Charles Porter.

A senior at St. Louis University, Dean Fields will spend Christmas at home with his parents Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Fields of Red River.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hoke of Smythbrook were Mrs. and Mrs. E. C. Wallace and Mrs. Al Bero of Marblehead, Ohio. Mrs. Hoke enjoyed guiding her guests around Northland doing Christmas shopping, but her guests felt it would take an entire week to see everything, not just a short Saturday afternoon.

Recent guests of the Clare R. Messengers of San Diego were Mr. and Mrs. Keith Messenger and their four children. Keith owns and operates the Sault Airways in Northern Michigan.

Between her church work and his editorial work, Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Debus have been trying to finish off an extra room in their home. Mrs. Debus says the project has been held up by so many other demands upon their time, but after seeing some of the fine work Mr. Debus has done, the finished room should be something to see.

As her part of the project Mrs. Debus is weaving carpeting for the room, and bamboo cafe curtains will drape the three windows. Even the curtains will be made on looms.

Tea following the Dec. 3 meeting of Lathrup Woman's club served from a Christmas table so outstanding in beauty it deserves more than a few words of praise.

Table decorations were mainly the work of Mrs. Richard Cagner and Mrs. Charles Herr. Using a red table cloth, a large silver candelabra held the center of interest with two little Christmas girls on each side whose white button mums full skirts stood out against the Christmas greens encircling them.

The buffet was decorated with angelabras and a Christmas candle tree. Beside doing the decorating, Mrs. Herr and Mrs. Cogger contributed to the Christmas trays served from the table.

Committee members Mrs. George Ritter, Mrs. C. D. Honke and Mrs. George Sevik Jr., also contributed homemade cookies and worked on the committee.

or no cause to ask for his resignation." Cogger then proposed a resolution that the council resolve to affirm confidence in the city administrator.

NEXT TO CARRY the ball for Watchowski was Councilman Mackey who fashioned a point-by-point rebuttal of everything the Mayor had said or put into writing. He stated that the mayor's charges were pure, personal opinions. The audience was at this point warming up to the tempo of sentiments expressed and greeted Mackey's last words with a burst of applause.

Johnson when his turn came all too quite enthusiastically defended Mr. W. and thought Watchowski had fulfilled all his duties. Next to speak was the city administrator, who expressed in a quiet and hesitant voice his appreciation for what the council members had said. He also wanted the people to know he would like to do his best for the city.

SEVERAL OTHER various statements were exchanged before the vote was taken on the resolution. Result: three years supporting Mr. W. and one year supporting Campbell's last remark to a crowd now gathering their coats was "well see who is right or wrong at the next election. . . . I'm willing to stick my neck out and let the voters decide."

We Heard It Said By: HARRY B. ROTTIERS, Franklin Village councilman

"I'm opposed to a police force being set up on the number of convictions and tickets they write up. The budget to run a police force should be adequate and should the fines be sufficient to run the department, that's fine. But as a matter of public policy, a police department should avoid basing its revenue on fines."

Hold Hearing Dec. 11

SOUTHFIELD — Public hearing will be held Dec. 11 on petitions requesting that special assessment districts be set up so that water mains may be constructed on Pierce, Edwards and Lathrup streets in Bedford Villas and Bedford Villas No. Two.

We Heard It Said By: LEONARD LAWTON, member of Franklin Village volunteer police force

"We have found the best way to slow down traffic along Franklin road is to park the police car along the shoulder of the road with its red light flashing and a blue sleeve hanging out of the window. This is more effective than signs."

Blm. Model Home Entered by Thieves Estimate City Tie-In Sewer at $67,000

BLOOMFIELD — Thieves, believed to be a man and woman, entered a furnished model home at 5755 Adams road, Bloomfield township, Monday night through an unlocked door and stole an estimated $400 worth of merchandise.

Bloomfield township Police Chief Clark J. Green said footprints in the soft ground indicated the large tent to be the work of a man and woman, possibly the same couple police are seeking in connection with break-ins recently at two houses on Squirrel lake road. The couple apparently entered the model home through an unlocked glass sliding door in the recreation room which opened onto a ground-level patio. The model is a four-bedroom tri-level built by John Harrison Estates.

A high fidelity tuner and amplifier valued at $300 was taken in addition to bedspreads, lamps and ash trays. The thieves apparently carried their loot through the garage to a car.
