West Beverly

ELVA BEUKEMA MI 4-8247

Mr. and Mrs. Folmer Jensen of West 14 Mile road have returned from Chicago where they had motored to attend the wedding of their daughter, Mary Jane to Fred Wiesinger of that city.

The wedding took place at a candlelight ceremony at the First Unitarian church with the reception being held at the Quadrangle club of the University of Chicago.

Mrs. Wiesinger studied at Wayne university and interned at Grace hospital in Detroit. She then went on to the University of Chicago where she majored in psychiatry, receiving her degree from Chicago U. For a while she was associated with Billings hospital in Chicago but now has her own office. Mr. Wiesinger is an architectural engineer.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiesinger are honeymooning in the Laurentian mountains in Canada and will be at home in Chicago after the 15th of February.

The West Beverly Hills association board of directors held its monthly meeting last night in the Riverside drive home of the association's president, Bradley Stephenson. Members discussed possible courses of action concerning the area's future status.

Luck was with the Bill Prices when they had a tobogan party at Orchard Lake country club Feb. 4. Snow and weather conditions were ideal, and it was a tired but happy group that returned to the Prices' Devonshire road home that evening for supper.

Attending the party were the Bill Gimmans, Jere Doroughs, Dick Hatches, Henry Welches, Leland Rosemonts and James McNabbs, of Royal Oak.

Subscribers to the idea that an excellent indoor sport these blustery evenings is a good bridge game by a warm fireside, are the Stanley Andersens of Devonshire road, who entertained friends at three tables of bridge on Feb. 11.

Mrs. Henry Guenther, West Beverly captain for the Community House drive, attended an organizational meeting and luncheon yesterday at the Community House, with her co-captains, Mrs. Stewart Barton, Mrs. Donald Kalmbach and Mrs. Harry Wood.

Coffees will be held for drive workers this morning at Mrs. Kalmbach's Bedford road home, and at Mrs. Barton's Dunblaine road home tomorrow morning. After receiving instructions at these meetings, workers will embark on their door-to-door solicitations.

A further boost to the campaign will be given by Mrs. Kalmbach tonight, when she entertains friends at three tables of bridge. "Admissions", in the form of donations to the Community House drive, will be paid by each of her guests.

CUBS SEE CIRCUS

A number of West Beverly parents and children were well aware last week that the Shrine circus had come to town. Among these were members of Cub Scout Pack B-24, who attended the circus as guests of William Duhn and P. J. Kent.

Escorting den 5 clubs at the morning performance last Saturday were den mother Mrs. Larry Muma, Mrs. George Adams and John Tomes. Among their wide-eyed charges were Bill Adams, Mike Tomes, Paul Granader, Ronnie McGregor, Tom Tarvis, Gerry Saporski and Bill Muma.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson acted as chauffeurs and general guides to the boys of den 11, including Alfred Qualman, Jimmy Cole, Jimmy Andrews, Frankie McCracken, Barry Byrne and Peter Johnson.

Den 7 scouts attended on Feb. 4 with their den mother, Mrs. Warren Risk and Mrs. Glenn H. Freeman. On hand for the fun were Peter Decker, Mike Freeman, Robert Allison, Tommy Sheppard, Paul Risk, Tommy Fairbanks and Tommy Kavanagh. Stephen Hazard, Billy Bricker and Jimmy Blann also attended that day, with Dens 2 and 6.

The seven cub scouts in Den 3 entertained their mothers last Friday at a Valentine party at the home of their den mother, Mrs. Marcus Arthur on Dunblaine.

A musical program preceded the serving of refreshments. Gary O'Toole played his cornet, and both boys accompanied the song sung by the rest of the cubs, Mrs. E. L. Wetstein, mother of Mrs. Arthur, was also invited to the party.

The Altar Society of Our Lady Queen of Martyrs church held its first joint bake sale last week. According to Mrs. Alfred Hettel, chairman, it was the Society's first attempt at a bake sale on such a large scale, and the group was pleased with the response of those who contributed and those who purchased the baked goods.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Matthew, 16260 Amherst, will host a buffet dinner, Saturday evening for the officers and wives of the Knights Templar, Northville Commandery 39.

The dinner, an annual affair is given by the outgoing commander. Matthew will step down in April when Edwin P. Selse of Detroit will be installed.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dishman have moved from Detroit to 15534 Kirkshire. They have two married children, Herman, Jr., living in Roseville and Virginia Foley, living in Brockton, Mass. One son Ralph, 19, is in the Navy in San Diego, Calif., and one daughter, Sandra, 15, is a student at Birmingham high school.

The Dishmans proudly mention their two grandsons, ages four and two, and both like gardening as a hobby. Mr. Dishman is a sub station operator with Detroit Edison.

Mrs. George Hilfinger, captain, and Mrs. Donald Wilsher, co-captain, will meet this morning at a 10:30 coffee with their workers for the Birmingham Community House roll call drive which begins Feb. 20. At the meeting in the Hilfinger home, 13 solicitors will receive instruction kits and lists of names. Mrs. Wilsher and Mrs. Hilfinger attended the captains' luncheon at the House yesterday.

Brownies of troop 687 held a Valentine party Monday at the home of Mrs. George Omelianoff, 16960 Birwood. Mrs. Robert Broderick helped the girls make a beautiful Valentine box as centerpiece for the table and colored streamers came from the box to place cards for each little Brownie. Mrs. Walter E. Hentschke is the leader of troop.

Safety Lights for Two Intersections

FRANKLIN—Safety lights are to be installed at two village intersections which officials believe are dangerous at night because of poor lighting.

One of these is at Romany Way and Franklin road, a school intersection, which, according to Town Marshal Jack Roberts, is dangerous, not only because of darkness at night, but because of a high bank which screens visibility.

The other intersection, Roberts said, was at 13 Mile and Franklin roads where short turns and hilly approaches make the area dangerous.

MARGARET DAY MI 6-0798

Sullen-faced cats snarling at a cracking whip, the awesome feats of the "trap act" high above the crowd, the tumbling clowns, the gay balloons, and all the hurly-burly that goes to make up a show under the big top are at the Shrine circus, and young Billy Wright was there last week to see them.

Billy's father, Maurice Wright of Pon Valley, took Billy and a group of young friends in the station wagon to see the show on a Friday night.

There were 27 tickets left over, and these were to be given to Wayne Francisco, teacher at Bloomfield Hills school, so that sixth graders there might have an opportunity to see the show.

The Sidney Sabourins of Golfview "did" New York in 30 hours on their recent trip. Not only did Mr. and Mrs. Sabourin get to see the Motorama ("Oh, so crowded"), but they took in the show "Damn Yankee" and were down to Greenwich Village for dinner.

The old fiddle was giving out with the rural music last week at the square dance held at the Bloomfield Hills high school, and partners swinging 'round 'n 'round were Helen and Roy Pahl, the Charles Bays and the Ed Hollenbecks.

Also doing the turkey-in-the-straw strut were the Harry Atens, Ben and Dolly Hardesty, the Worthing Stones, the Art Johnsons and Bob and Pat Wilson.

The Birds are headed south. And before the query, "Aren't they kind'a late this winter?" is heard, it must be said that it is Mrs. Warrin Bird and daughter, Pat, of Golfview who are leaving Friday for Lake Worth, Fla. Another daughter, Joselyn, plans to make the trip with them.

Warrin Bird will join the family later in the month, and then the Birds with a group of friends (many of whom are from Birmingham) will continue down to the Florida Keys.

The Birds' son, Thomas Cushman Bird, has been awarded the American Spirit medal, a presentation which, incidentally, is made to but one man in 2,000. Thomas Bird is in boot camp at Great Lakes, Ill.

If the land of palm trees and sun tan oil holds no particular lure, how about Otsego? Those who come back from there say the food is wonderful and skiing even better. The Art Hagmans were there over the weekend with daughter, Sandy, and a guest, Detroiter Louise Carlson. Home for the Hagmans, when they aren't up in snow country, is on Cottontail lane.

Over from the St. Clair Shore area to make their home at 5790 Snowshoe circle are Grace and Thomas Lewis. Grace isn't completely adjusted to suburban living yet, and she admits she makes several weekly trips back to The Shores to see old friends. Lewis is with Ford Motor Company Tractor & Implement Division on East Maple road.

The Gilbert Lake Protective Association held a meeting Feb. 9 at the home of Robert Peabody on Quarton road. Those present were Donald O'Toole, Del Knoblock, Harold McCracken, Harry Aten, Francis Gallaudet and Ed Hollenbeck.
