Wing Lake - Foxcroft Horticultural Therapy Group Started by Wing Lake WNF

Volunteers, wishing to devote a few hours a month to shut-ins and hospitalized, long-term patients, may be interested in a new project being sponsored by the Wing Lake branch of the WNF.

Mrs. Ralph Darling, Sunningdale, horticulture chairman of the Wing Lake club, will hold the first meeting of this group at her home Feb. 8.

Women who donate some of their time to this project will experience great satisfaction, Mrs. Darling said, in teaching the hospitalized how to work with plants, both indoors and outdoors.

"It will be an opportunity to learn as well as teach," she said, "as those whom we teach may also have contributing knowledge and ideas."

"It is a chance to appreciate the limitations of the bed or chair-ridden and encourage them to transfer their interests from themselves to working with living things such as plants and flowers."

This group will be a "horticulture therapy" group and work under the leadership of Mrs. Darling.

Anyone in this community or near-by communities wishing to have more information or to participate may contact Mrs. Cecil Cook, 6480 Worlington or Mrs. Foxcroft WNF.

FOX-CROFT WNF
 The Foxcroft WNF club will meet promptly at 1:00 Monday, Feb. 6 at the home of Mrs. Paul A. Billings, 6100 West Surrey.

June Macauley of the Birmingham library will review the latest garden books for the program.

Lary Selbert, Indianwood Trail and Mike Stoen, Orchard Lake road, visited the Bluebonnet Hills high school last June and now attending Highland Park Junior college, returned to Pennsylvania and North Carolina last week during their mid-semester vacation.

The boys' visited the grand-mother, Mrs. Charles Selbert, Mt. Holly Springs, Pa., just outside Harrisburg and from there went to Kannapolis, N. C. near Charlotte.

On their return trip they stopped at Pittsburgh and visited Lary's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Whitley.

Gilbert Lake Residents Return from Visits With Relatives in Southland

Area residents returned last week from visits with relatives in southern states. Col. and Mrs. Walter Ott of Lakeside road returned from their trip to Osyka, Miss., where they had been visiting the colonel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ott.

The Otts, who are usually returning some runway in a plane, only to be airborne a few seconds later and headed for some distant city, got into their car for their southern trip and just rolled down the highway.

Mrs. Murrie Betts of Stoneleigh returned last week from a visit with her mother in Bessemer, Ala. just outside of Birmingham. Murrie Betts, along with the boys, had returned home earlier in the month. "Honey," Stoneleigh's traveling cocker spaniel was along, of course, and his trip was just fine, thank you.

Add 15-year-old David Campbell's name to the group of organ music lovers, but he admits the spines in the living room is pretty mild fare after playing the huge pipe organ in the First Presbyterian church.

David turns the pages and puts in the stops for organist, Frank Sluener, on Sundays, but he is practicing hard so that he can play the prelude and give Frank a breather at the keyboard. David lives on Golfview.

Remember the days of hop-scotch, penny candy and a teasing child's sing-song, "Johnny's gotta sweet-heart"? Those times are coming back, well, for an evening, anyway.

Fran and Arlene Moriarty, who were in the Saturday night audience for the comedy, "Lo and Be-hold" will be down to the Chestnut street playhouse on Feb. 11 for the Village Players' come-as-a-child party. The Moriarty live on Hills drive.

Ricky Raymann did not get a big fluffy cake for the occasion; "Get some cupcakes, mom—the kind with cowboys on, and when you're three years old and celebrating the fact, a fellow should have what he wants."

So, last Monday cousins, Jenny Henderson and Billy Raymann, came over to Ricky's home on Lakeside road, and mom, who is Mrs. Dick Raymann, made sure this young cowboy fan had a rip snort in 'affair.

If nothing else could be said for Holy Name's eighth-grader Snowbound dance last Thursday, one must admit they had perfect fun.

The dance, inspired by the John Greenleaf Whittier poem, took place when the snow was at its glancing best; and one would have thought they had gone outside and had gathered up some of that white splendor for their decorations.

Linda Camiller of Maple road was there and so was Cathy Lapey, Mary Fahrman and Halse Barbour.

Rowe Balmer of Snowshoe circle took the two oldest children and headed up to Otsego for some skiing last week-end. This week, however, Mary Lee and Rowe will leave the family behind and will head up to the snow country to practice those stem turns.

Last week-end was a busy time for 10-year-old Lynne Marie McKenna; her hair had to look its very best, the dress she wore had to be just so because Aunt Pat (Miss Pat McKenna of Dearborn) was taking part in the wedding ceremony.

Uncle Tom (Thomas McKenna of Birmingham) gave the bride away, and Lynne's parents, the Sidney McKenna of Theresetree, drove over to Dearborn to attend the wedding.

Birmingham Credit Women Sponsor Dinner Meeting

Miss Geneva F. McQuatters, Executive Secretary of the Credit Women's Breakfast Clubs of North America, will be guest speaker at a dinner sponsored by the Birmingham Chapter, Thursday, Feb. 9th, at Aunt Fannie's restaurant.

Miss McQuatters manages the Central Office in St. Louis, Mo., which she opened in April, 1955. With the National Retail Credit Association and the Associated Credit Bureaus of America, the Credit Women's Breakfast Clubs of NA form the "Big Three" of Consumer Credit. They meet jointly at Annual District and International Conferences; and CWBC conduct an educational program on credit techniques for its members.

Membership is open to women who are employed in credit departments of businesses which are members of the local Credit Bureau. Business men or their employees who wish to learn more about CWBC are invited to attend this meeting. Information regarding reservations may be obtained from Mary Ann Fairbanks, at The Birmingham National Bank.

GENEVA F. McQUATTERS

Mrs. John Zich is food chairman, assisted by Mrs. Addison Doenges, Mrs. Jack Mustard, Mrs. Eugene Land, Mrs. Edward Fuller, Mrs. Clarence Bushagen, Mrs. Gordon Nyquist, Mrs. Jack Mackay, Mrs. Warner Kusny and Mrs. Grove Duval.

Posters, placed in strategic business places and in school corridors were made by 6th and 6th grade students.

Craig Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ian Wilson, Franklin road, finished his four years at Alma college this month. He has returned home where he will live with his parents and teach elementary education at Ford school in Hazel Park the rest of the year.

In June Craig will return to Alma campus for graduation and to receive his sheepskin for a BA degree.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Shaw, Sherringham, entertained 12 guests from Detroit and Chicago at cocktails and dinner Saturday evening in their home. Following dinner the evening was spent playing cards.

WING LAKE PTO
 Last year when Wing Lake school PTO held its popular square dance and midnight feast, there was such an overflow crowd for the Wing Lake school capacity that it is to be held this year at Bloomfield Hills high school Feb. 10 at 8:00 p.m.

The midnight buffet will be comparable to last year; Dick Lewis will call the square dances and for those who do not dance, cards and scrabble will be provided for entertainment.

Tickets will be available at the door. Mrs. Gerald Selbert, Indianwood Trail, is general chairman of the ticket sales and our hostess committee are the two room-mothers of each grade.
