Sand Paintings, Film on Tibet Set at Cranbrook

CRANBROOK — A large group of sand paintings, simulating the originals for which the Navajo In-flans are famed, are on display at Cranbrook Institute of Science for the remainder of the month, on oan from Captain Luther A. Doug-nas.

loan from Captain Lather A. Doug-las, a Friday evaning in Canhorolo School audifornium, Seieren Institute members and gwests will view the dramatic color film on Tibet, made when the Dalai Lama invited the Forbidden City.

The Navajo make their paintings with sand and dry pigment, often in commetion make their paintings with sand and dry pigment, often in commetion make their paintings with sand and dry pigment, often in commetion with religious cere-stroyed in one siin.

Intrigued by the stechnical as well as artistic problems involved in Porce Captain Luther A. Douglas, spent il 5 years in research, attend-ed many Navajo religious cerems-own hand ground pigments in sand.

EVENTUALLY he came up with a technique that provided sand paintings in a smaller scale than the originals, but as near them in color and design as possible. Reduced in size, they can be hung on a wall.

Birmingham city commission has not changed its mind that working not changed its mind that working matters for local administration, not state legislation.

As it has for several years past, commissioners Monday night as a second for local representatives in Lansing opposing proposed legislation for a 40-hour week for policemen and a second "Selly day" in every 8-day week for forener. On the basis that such laws are contrary to the commonly accepted "home rule" principle.

Police here now work only 40 hours.
