The Right Wall

To Readers of books, the right and left walls in the west room at LaBelles holds vast interest. It is the walls of bookshelves. For nigh unto thirty years it has been, so to speak, where readers and authors meet in Birmingham.

From these laden shelves reading folks have selected countless hours of reading-to-their-taste. Wherever one's interest leads: to history, fiction, biography, travel, non-fiction, science, religion, juvenile—all are here.

For this is a complete book service which includes the books of all publishers.

Kingswood Column

by Anne Wilson

Last Saturday the combined student cabinets of Kingswood and Cranbrook held the annual mid-term "Get Acquainted" Dance in Cranbrook's little gym.

It was the first of many projects to obtain money for transportation and tuition for a foreign exchange student. The Student Cabinets' goal for this project is $650. If each school is able to raise the needed amount, a full scholarship will be given to a worthy student who has a sufficient knowledge of English and would like to continue his or her education in the United States.

During intermission entertainment was provided by Jim Ewing on the bass, Mr. Robert Bates on the piano and Frank Story on the drums. Pete Hubert and Al Sanborn also delighted the crowd with several renditions of favorite songs.

Manq skating parties were held over the past week-end. At her home in Franklin Village, Norma Pettit gave a party for the junior class last Saturday.

Among those enjoying the good ice, good food, and good fun were day students, Ann Graf, Gail Armstrong, Judy Knudsen, Thayer Bice, Diana Bob, Jane West, Sally Young, Barb Cooksey, Marilyn Mertine, Jeanne Hagreaves, Connie Kellor, Judy Harris, Sally Austerberry, and Janice Wainger.

OTHERS WERE Jocie Scofield, Susie Simons, Sally Sanford, Anne Wilson, Becky Erwin, Barb Hapke, Sue Voorhies, and Rubyjean Landsman.

Among the boarders attending Norma's party were Carol Worthington, Shirley Block, Lynn Bailey, Ann Mulford, Mary Foster, Sandy Shrank, Nancy Ward, Mary Lou Middleton, Brenda Welch, Alex Nason, Mary Shaw, and Pat Graham.

Other boarders were Kay Dunn, Mady Hamady, Betsy Smith, Joanne Shelley, Kate Myers, Marcie Melet, Martha Vicinus, Mary Prendergast, and Heather Rayburn.

Timeless Watches

Baltimore, Md.—Burglars who recently smashed a window of a jewelry store here and took three watches and three gold-plated watch bands, are probably wondering why the watches won't run. The reason is that the watches don't have any works—they were for display purposes only. And the watch bands? Well, they won't stay on because they are cut in the middle. They were just for display purposes, too.

★ Smile A Minute

They were entertaining friends in their new prefabricated home. Suddenly one of the guests sat up and listened. "That's not mice," replied the householder. "That's the people next door eating celery."
