New Business Center Opened Here Last Week

Birmingham's newest business center opened last week at the southwest corner of Maple and Cranbrook roads.

The six stores in the center include Marty's Record Shop, The Danish Pastry Shop, Cranbrook Drug Store, Birmingham Cleaners, Albert Hairstylist and Johnstone & Johnstone real estate office.

Marty's Record shop is owned by John K. Martin and Warren Michael Kelly, Detroit radio and television personality.

RESIDES an expansive coverage of records ranging from pop to classic, Marty's features a complete line of three-speed portable record players. Record albums at Marty's are kept in clear plastic bags to insure original quality to the buyer.

The Danish pastry shop features the Danish variety of baked goods but also caters to the American taste in pastry.

The bakery is owned by Palle Schierup who came to this country seven years ago after 22 years in the bakery business in Copenhagen, Denmark.

CRANBROOK Drug Store has a complete pharmaceutical department, headed by owner James L. Sheridan, a pharmacist in the Birmingham area for the past seven years. Cranbrook also features a complete selection of Hallmark cards.

The new Birmingham cleaners has its own cleaning plant in the building with all new equipment. Birmingham features four-hour service.

Birmingham cleaners' main store is at Woodward avenue and Adams road. Both stores are owned by Harold M. Kaldelbach and managed by Tom Walker, a graduate of the Dry Cleaning Institute of Silver Spring, Maryland.

Albert Hairstylist is a modern beauty salon with six Virginia Farrell trained operators. The salon is owned by Albert Welch and managed by Mr. Don of the Roseale Park shop.

JOHNSTONE & Johnstone real estate office will occupy the sixth unit of the business center. The new branch will be opened Feb. 1.

The office will be the second in the Birmingham area for Johnstone & Johnstone who have another branch office at 208 N. Woodward avenue. Both branches will be managed by Kingsley Purton.

Johnstone & Johnstone's main office is in the Hammond building, Detroit.

A seventh unit of the business center will be occupied by a manufacturer's agent office in the near future.

—advertising, sales promotion and training, for the new Special Products Division of the company, it has been announced by J. C. Doyle, general sales and marketing manager.

Copeland has had a wealth of experience in advertising, becoming manager of the Detroit office of Kodner Agency, Inc., in 1935. Later, he accepted a similar position with Bates, Barton, Durstine and Osborn.

He joined Ford Motor Company in 1948 and has held key advertising and sales promotion posts in the company since that time.

IN HIS NEW position, Copeland is responsible to the General Sales and Marketing Manager for the development and coordination of all divisional and dealer cooperative advertising programs and the development and execution of sales promotion and training programs with field and dealership personnel.

Born in Indianapolis, he started a newspaper career with the Indiana Daily Times. Subsequently, he served in various editorial capacities on newspapers in Richmond, Ind.; Aberdeen, S. D.; Milwaukee, Detroit, New York City; Tampa, Fla.; and Chicago.

His first association with the automobile industry came in 1927 when he became automotive editor for the old Chicago Herald-Examiner.

store, Birmingham cleaners, Albert Hairstylist and Johnstone & Johnstone real estate office. All the stores are opened for business except Johnstone & Johnstone which will open around the end of January.

Clymer Appointed Diesel Ad Mgr.

D. J. Clymer, 5055 South Clunbury drive, West Bloomfield, has been appointed advertising manager of the Detroit Diesel engine division of General Motors.

Clymer joined Detroit Diesel in the technical publications department in 1943 and just prior to his present appointment was assistant to the advertising manager.

He was also in charge of distributor sales management programs and national trade shows.

Two Area Men Win Shell Contest

Two Birmingham residents have won state-wide contest sponsored by the Shell Oil Co.

P. J. Turner, 840 Ridgedale, Birmingham, local real estate representative for Shell, placed first among the company's seven real estate representatives.

R. S. Perry, local sales representative for Shell, placed tenth among the 22 company's salesmen in the state-wide 1955 sales contest.

Turner and Perry were among the 33 men in various sales categories awarded contest prizes at Shell's annual sales meeting held Jan. 17 in the Statler Hotel, Detroit.
