Send Water Problem To Twp. Attorney

SOUTHFIELD.—Township trustees referred to Township Attorney Harry N. Dell a problem which they and Leonard Lamb, water superintendent, admit is a puzzle. The question is: should residents be charged a tap-in fee against a future assessment when they have an opportunity to get water from an existing water main not in their immediate subdivision; or should they pay a part of the share of the present main to the subdivider who has to pay for the main's installation?

Lamb told board members there could be inequities in both systems, and might complicate future development of the benefiting home owners' subdivision, by making the

S'field Hi to Add 400 Fresh in Fall

Southfield high school now has an enrollment of 1,221 students, and a class of more than 400 ninth graders will enter in the fall. Assistant principal Robert Hall reports that, from all appearances, the school will be about five class rooms short in the fall, but completion of the swimming pool will help to make class rooms available. With each new class running well over 400, Southfield high school, built originally to accommodate 950 will soon house approximately 1,600 students.

Whodunit? Tim's Prize Is Gone

WALNUT LAKE.—Disappearance of Timothy Mitchell's painting from the Speed museum in Louisville, Ky., is puzzling to the museum director, police and the Mitchell family. Timothy, 11, son of the Jack B. Mitchells of Loch Lomond road did a water color of himself seated at the piano, while he was a fifth grade student attending Marshall school, Detroit. His picture, titled "As I see Myself" was chosen by his art teacher and entered in a national student exhibition. In the furor of moving to the Walnut Lake area, the Mitchells lost track of the painting and did not know of the theft until reading of it recently in a Detroit paper. The family have since given up all hope of seeing their young son's prize painting.
