

A free, but very wonderful heritage that each of us has is that of wistful dreaming... dreaming about success, or a trip, or one's beloved... or just dreaming. Dreams that spring from divine qualities are jewels that adorn one's inner self.

Torch Light Parade Attracts Wide Interest

Don't Forget The Punch Line

WHEN A MEMBER of the League of Women Voters talks politics with two of the August primary candidates, what could be more appropriate for refreshments than "political punch?" Enjoying the party fare after the LWV-sponsored rally are (from left) William Judy, candidate for state senator (Rep.); Scott Cole, candidate for state representative (Rep.); and Mrs. Willys P. Wagner of Franklin.

Torch Light Speaker

FIRST CANDIDATE to speak at the LWV rally is Donald S. Leonard, Republican candidate for the gubernatorial nomination. All candidates for state offices who spoke lauded Mrs. John Rumsey, president, and the League of Women Voters for their service to the community in staging the rally. Sitting just below the platform are candidates for county offices.

Learn Voting Fundamentals

SINCE THE PURPOSE of the League of Women Voters' torchlight rally was to encourage citizens to vote, a demonstration voting booth was set up at the birthday party for new voters in St. James Episcopal church undercroft. Here Mrs. Robert Stacey, LWV member, (second from right) demonstrates its use to three young people who will be voting in a presidential election for the first time. They are (from left) Mr. and Mrs. Roger Beebe and Jack Maddox, all of Birmingham.

Election Year Verbiage

I promise you... And furthermore... This great American heritage... If elected... You grand citizens of Birmingham, Oakland county, Michigan... My worthy opponent... This great nation of ours... My voting record is an indication... And I will continue to fight...

Parade Sideliners' Comments

Hurry up or we'll be late... But we won't be able to see anything over there... Why doesn't the band play?... Let that little boy get up in front... I'm getting tired of holding her up, you hold her a while... My gosh, you just had some popcorn... Now COME BACK here, do you want to get lost?... Well, for heaven's sake, there's... Can't you wait until the parade goes by?... Look at that funny man over there... Now STOP that... This is the last time you'll go to a parade with me...

... Truth, the Whole Truth...

"CRY OUT THE facts—let the people decide!" was the slogan on The Birmingham Eccentric's float in the LWV torchlight parade. Here two citizens, Lawrence Quinn and Mrs. Robert Silbar, read their Eccentrics while the 18th Century town crier alerts the public. Eccentric pressroom employee John Dunn is the town crier.

Talking Things Over

A "BIG WHEEL" attracts a crowd of modern-day cyclists who compared the antiquated vehicle ridden by "Mr. X" in the LWV parade with their own sleek models. The Birmingham resident, who prefers to remain anonymous, was the center of interest before he began his two-wheeled gymnastics down the parade route, garbed in authentic 1890 costume.
