

FLAG DAY

Display the flag and let it wave
O'er all the land today,
It means so much to every one
And always will, we pray

The emblem of our native land,
It stands for all that's true,
Free men have fought and died for it,
Our own red, white and blue.

MRS. CHARLES G. DAUGHERTY

Dianne Kay Young Wed
In New Jersey Rites

St. Bernard's church in Plainfield, N. J., was the scene of the June wedding of Diane Kay Young and Charles Geller Daugherty, son of the James Krozer Daughertys of Baltimore, Md.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus M. Young, former Plainfield residents who are now making their home on Abbey road, Birmingham.

DUPIONI silk fashioned the bridal gown styled with a sweetheart neckline, short sleeves and bouffant skirt extending into a chapel train. Alencon lace and seed pearls accented the bodice and a pearl crown secured the bride's fingertip veil. Tiny sweetheart roses were combined with white roses for her bouquet.

Mrs. Steven P. Pakes of Columbus, Ohio, matron of honor, was distinguished by the American beauty roses which were combined with sweetheart roses and baby's breath for her bouquet. The bridesmaids carried arrangements featuring roses in a darker red shade.

ALL WERE identically frocked in aqua taffeta with length dresses designed with an apron effect on the skirts. Serving as bridesmaids were Mrs. John Gilliland of Bloomington, Ind., Mrs. William Selig and Carol Carty of Plainfield and Betta Hastings of Salisbury, Md.

Pink eyeslet embroidered organza with matching hat and nosegay of sweetheart roses was the costume of the flower girl, Mary Jan Benbrook of Woodward, Okla.

JAMES K. Daugherty, Jr., acted as best man and ushers were Marshall C. Roop, William K. McWilliams, James C. Beese, Jr., Thomas A. Strasser and William K. Grover, all of Baltimore.

For traveling to Virginia Beach, Va., the new Mrs. Daugherty changed to a black sheath dress and tweed jacket with white accessories.

The newlyweds are making their home in Baltimore where Diane will teach school and Charles is continuing his studies at the University of Maryland.
