

Netherlands West Indies To Be Home of Newlyweds

In an evening ceremony performed by the Rev. Robert DeWitt at Christ Church Cranbrook, Susan Elizabeth Mock became the bride of William L. Shallberg, on Friday.

Susan is the daughter of Mrs. Marshall McFar, 576 Gelfevier, and James R. Mock, of Orchard Lake. The groom's parents are the Leslie E. Shallbergs, of Austin, Tex., formerly of Birmingham.

Charles E. Shallberg, of Birmingham, was best man, and ushers were Richard R. Shallberg, of Cambridge, Mass.; Edgar K. Beatty and Thomas W. Batters, both of Birmingham.

SUSAN WORE white organza for her marriage. Her gown was embroidered with tiny medallions, its skirt falling into a short train. A waist-length veil fell from her Juliet cap of embroidered organza. Her bouquet was of white Eucharist lilies and lilies of the valley.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Shallberg wore pale blue shantung with matching hat. Mrs. Mock chose pink voile, with the color repeated in her hat.

Mrs. Frank W. Sinks, of Detroit, was matron of honor, and Anne Mock was maid of honor. Both are sisters of the bride. Mrs. Thomas Batters, of Birmingham, was the bride's third attendant.

A RECEPTION followed the ceremony at the Gordon lane home of Susan's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Marshall.

THE THREE WERE gowned in white linen, embroidered in pink. They carried pink roses and ivy.

When she left for her wedding trip to Havana, Cuba, and Jamaica, the bride wore a cotton ensemble of Navy and white, with Navy accessories.

The couple will live in Aruba, Netherlands West Indies, where the groom is employed.

Traditional Lace Gown Chosen for Wedding Rites

Mary Catherine Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cramer Ray Wilson of North Woodward avenue, Birmingham, was united in marriage Saturday evening to Charles E. Whitney, Jr., son of Charles E. Whitney of North Woodward avenue, Birmingham, and the late Mrs. Whitney.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. William Conrad Hamm in St. Mary-of-the-Hills church on the couple's estate in Lake Orion.

A GOWN of white chantilly lace with satin and tulle was chosen by the bride. The metal motif of the lace patterned, lace outlined the deeply rounded décolletage and skirt of the long sleeved gown. The full skirt extended into a circular train with a scalloped border of the lace.

A train of crystal and seed pearls, secured the bride's finger in length veil of illusion and her bouquet was composed of white carnations, stephanotis and ivy. Full skirt of chiffon frocks, decorated with a band of pleated material forming the boat neckline, were worn by the attendants.

MAD OFF honor, Claire DeNador of Bloomfield Hills, carried a matching bouquet with her retinue. Bridesmaids, Margie McCaskey of Birmingham and Karen Frank of Franklin, wore gowns of powder blue with flowers to match. Completing their costumes were flaras with small face veils.

FOLLOWING the rites, a reception was held in Birmingham Community House. Mrs. Harlan W. Stanley of Beverly Hills received for the groom. She selected a dress of spring blue lace over tulle with which she wore a mauve feathered hat and blue cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Wilson received in a gown of ice blue pearl-de-sine. Her hat was designed with blue velvet roses and pearls and her corsage was fashioned of rose cymbidium orchids.

After traveling to Banff in the Canadian Rockies, the newlyweds will return via the western United States to make their home at East Lansing where both will resume studies at Michigan State university in the fall.

The bride's going-away costume was a sleek brown sheath topped with a brown tweed silk duster and golden beige accessories.
