

Rewards of Work, Savings, Earned By 21 Students

BY VIRGINIA COLE

When 21 Bloomfield Hills high school students march up the gang plank Friday, June 22, to receive their S.S. Zion, at Pier 97 in Brooklyn, N. Y., it will be the realization of dreams come true and a two-year savings program.

The trip has cost each student $1108.00 in hard-earned cash. Upon their return and the completion of a paper on any phase of French life or France itself, these students will be eligible for a half year's credit in the course "French Civilization and Culture."

Many have earned all or most of the money themselves during the past two years of careful planning which have gone into this venture.

STUDENTS anticipating the trip formed a club—the European Student Tour Club. Some of the money earned has been through collective efforts of the members. They had lake sales, a paper drive and sold school pennants. Most unique was their own baby-sitting agency, which will be held part-time and during vacations) full-time jobs of all kinds.

One Good Turn Deserves Another For Jamie Koch

The story has a happy ending, though 11-year-old Jamie Koch's faith in human nature was shaken for a while Monday.

Jamie's son, the Robert J. Kochs of 808 Puritan, stopped in his enjoyment of the first week of vacation from Holy Name school to rescue a domestic duck which had been attacked by a dog at Quarters lake.

Jamie carried the badly mangled creature home in his arms, leaving his bike behind at the lake while he tended the white duck which for some months has lived at the lake with its mate.

JAMIE placed the duck in the cool of the garage behind his home, and called the conservation department for help. Birmingham Dog Warden Al Sandell was dispatched to the scene.

The unhappy part of the story occurred when Sandell, who picked up the duck to take home and care for, drove Jamie back where he had left his bike.

Jamie's bike lay in a tangled wreck at the bottom of the embankment near Quarters dam, obviously pushed down the long bank with malicious intent while Jamie was away doing his good deed.

THE BADLY DAMAGED bike was placed next to the injured duck in Sandell's truck, and taken to a repair shop.

When members of the Birmingham Exchange club learned of Jamie's misfortune, they decided one good turn deserves another, especially when Jamie's act was rewarded with unkindness.

Exchange clubbers agreed to restore young Jamie's faith in humanity, and are picking up the tab for the extensive bike repairs required.

A further reward to Jamie for his kindness to one of God's creatures, Exchange clubbers have invited the conservation-minded youngster to be their guest at their luncheon next week.

GRADUATION exercises for the 122 eighth graders at Hickory Grove school will be held tonight at 8 p.m. at the school, 165 E. Square Lake road. Nathan Hargett, superintendent of the school, expects this to be the last class to graduate from the present building.

Dr. Joseph H. Hanley, minister of education, will be the speaker. Dr. James H. Read will present the graduation certificates.
