Officers Named, Awards Presented At Cranbrook

By REN CAMERON

Mr. Harry D. Hoey, headmaster, presented honors and named several important officers for next year at Cranbrook school's awards night Friday.

Bruce McCaul was named chairman of the Kingswood-Cranbrook Church Cabinet, and editor of the Cranbrook book of literature, "Opus".

Walter Bagdad will become editor-in-chief of the "Crane", bi-weekly newspaper.

LOUIS POTTER was named president of Ergasterian, and will be in charge of next year's drama. Jim Ewing, bass player, will be president of the band.

Scholastic awards were presented by Mr. Carl G. Wambert, head of the English department. Jon Himmelhoch was given an award as one of eight national winners in a contest sponsored by the American Association of Teachers of French.

Mike Freeman won three top scholastic awards, the Tilley award for the best research paper written, a National Merit scholarship and a place in the top one per cent of the nation scholastically, and another scholarship award for having the highest marks over a two-year period.

SINCE MIKE IS not in immediate need of a scholarship, $2,500 will be given for four years to Harvard for a needy student.

Charles Perry, Al Sargbon and Jon Himmelhoch placed in the top 10 per cent of the country scholastically.

Pete Bedford was given the citizenship award and Ron Hummel was given the Faculty Senior award for contributing the most to athletics in spirit and sportsmanship.

TURNING TO SPORTS, Jerry Dodson was given the "C" club award for contributing the most to athletics in spirit and sportsmanship.

Predicts named for next year were Dave Campbell, Phil Angel, Charles Askew, Bill Cormack, Jim Vary, Chris Washburn, Ralph Barber, Charles Grube, Dan Tyman, Herb Stanton, Bruce McCaul and Duncan Biles, who will be head prefect.
