Convention Bound, Paul Taylors Also See New York City Sights

Variety is the spice of life as the Paul Taylors of Lanergan drive will tell you. Their recent trip covered a jewelry convention at Providence, R. I. Then the bright lights of New York City beckoned.

They attended the play "Damn Yankee" while there and enjoyed an evening at the Copacabana. Then on to Washington, D.C. and the many interesting and historic sights. They viewed the Smoky Mountains at Gatlinburg, Tenn. before returning home to reality.

The Alfred Kenefick home on Burnley drive was the setting for a get-acquainted soiree for all women residing in the Charing Cross Estates subdivision, Saturday afternoon, June 2.

Mrs. Kenefick, chairman of the welcoming committee, Mrs. Wendell Butler and Mrs. Edward Duffer, greeted the 36 guests. Mrs. John Axtan and Mrs. George Boelker assisted at the tea table, beautifully centered with an arrangement of yellow roses and lilies. Mrs. Arthur Staley entertained the group, singing a number of musical selections.

Hickory Heights is a new rapidly-developing subdivision, west of Adams road and south of Long Lake Lake road. On May 18, the residents met at the Birmingham Community House and formed an association.

Officers elected are W. A. Wood, president; E. A. Price, vice president; H. P. Pinson, secretary; L. F. Hess, treasurer. Other board members are B. G. Booth, D. H. Curtis, M. W. Wood, D. L. Rich-
