

Re-Zoning Action Taken by B'ham Plan Commission

At Tuesday's regular meeting of the Birmingham city plan board, members of the board were mainly concerned with a number of proposals for re-zoning of several plots of property to business classifications.

The board deferred action on the proposal for a food plain area in the East part of the Quanton Lake subdivision.

The Planning Board recommended to the City Commission an L-shaped alley designed to run one way between Bates and Merrill. This plan would improve the circulation of private and commercial traffic in the area.

INCLUSION of the words "newspaper and commercial printing establishments" in the Birmingham zoning ordinance approved by the board after a request by The Birmingham Eccentric.

A request by the property owners of lots on Woodward and Redding roads to alter the classification of property for residential use as income bungalow to parking was postponed for further study. The main lots involved would be converted to a parking section to meet the needs of a proposed business type C building.

Petition was denied by the board to change the zoning on the south-west corner of Woodward and Oak street from multiple family to business.

Young Readers Withdrawing 500 Books Per Day

Young Birmingham readers are withdrawing an average of 500 books a day from Baldwin public library since the inventory last Wednesday of the juvenile department's summer reading program.

Children attending the program have been given a list of 218 children who have signed up for the "Expedition into the Land of the Unknown" of the 1956 summer reading club. The 218 children are divided into 56 groups of four children each. Each group will feature "Rumpelstiltskin" and "The Frog and the Toad" from 2:30 to 3, with Mrs. Burgess as story teller.

Confirm Road Oil Assessments for 52 B'ham Streets

Special assessments for light oiling of 11 Birmingham streets and oil mat and seal coat for 41 others have been confirmed by the city commission.

At the last minute, Windblown was deleted for further study of a resident's claim that a part of it did not need re-oiling.

If necessary, it will be added to a subsequent improvement program later this summer, city officials said.

Leaving Today For Boy's State

Sponsored by local clubs, eight Birmingham boys departed this morning for the 1956 National Boy's State on the Michigan State University campus.

The Exchange, Red Tent Jim Ham and Ted Schaefer, Jr. 12 1/2 Club, Fred H. Brown, Jr. 12 1/2 Club, John Bousie and Junior Chamber of Commerce, Steve Tew.

The week long Boy's State's purpose is to teach the youths the running of government. From the 4,000 representatives of Michigan high schools, city, county and state officials are elected.

Along with governmental activities, a recreational program of softball, tennis and swimming is also offered. A local Birmingham newspaper is their extra-curricular activities.

Richard H. Downer, of the American Legion, Birmingham chairman of Boy's State, said he hoped that one of the Birmingham boys will be elected governor this year.

Girl Disappears From Parents' Home

Birmingham police are looking for Marlene Simmons, 15, of 715 Purdy, who was reported missing at 5:45 a.m. Monday by her father, Alvert.

Simmons said his daughter has blue eyes and brown hair, and that the clothing she was wearing was not known. She has a birthmark on her left arm.

Simmons could give no reason for the girl's disappearance.
