Memories 're Made Of This—Saturday Cranbrook Dance

Saturday night Kingswood and Cranbrook students attended the annual "C" club dance in the Cranbrook "title gym". There was "Memories Are Made of This". Adorning the gym walls were drawings by Walt Bagrade, depicting memories of past events in the Kingswood-Cranbrook story. Dave Martin was dance committee chairman.

DANCING TO the music of Don Bari were many couples dressed alike and minus all footwear for the "Twin Sock-Hop." Included in the group were Chrissy Minkler and Larry Crowley, Molly Martin and Ralph Barbier, Jo Shelley and Dave Theobald and Jane McKenzie and Karl Karstrom. Others were Judy Frost and Bruce Everly, Patti Nagas and Bruce Rockwell, Jane Wert and George Gary, Martha Vicinus and Bob Waddell, Ann Coughlin and Dave Martin, and Peter McCloud and Sally Sanford. Bill Bumgardner and Bob Machus were hosts at dinner parties at their homes preceding the dance.

Dinner, Seminar, Other Activities At Cranbrook

The Cranbrook senior dinner committee composed of Dave Martin, John Kirk, and Al Sanborn has planned the first dinner Tuesday. Guest speaker will be architect Gerald Crane. His subject will be, "The City of Tomorrow".

College board examinations will be given Saturday for Cranbrook juniors and seniors. Aptitude tests will be given to all juniors, and seniors and some juniors will take achievement tests.

Carl Demrick, vice president in charge of manufacturing for Plymouth division, Chrysler corporation, recently gave Cranbrook two model airplanes, unique because they are made of plexiglas. Valued between $50,000 and $80,000, they were made for the 1956 automobile shows. The additions make Cranbrook the only high school with such a complete automotive laboratory.

The Cranbrook chapter of United World Federalists met Friday at Cranbrook. Purpose of the meeting was to learn what foreign students think about the United States.

Special guests were Margaret Davis, Richard Dorfmann, and Bernd Janikowsky. Margaret, New Zealand, and Richard, from Australia, are students at Birmingham high school. Bernd is from Cologne, Germany and attends Utica high school.

Cranbrook recently held its second science seminar. The day-long program featured talks by Harry E. Chesebrough, Lois Zolliker, and George J. Hubner, all of Chrysler corporation. Dr. William R. Dawson of the University of Michigan zoology department also spoke.

In the evening, William Schultz, of the Cranbrook faculty, completed the seminar with a lecture at Cranbrook institute of science's McMath planetarium.

Barnum Junior High News

A free movie ticket goes to each member of the champion eighth grade homeroom league basketball team, room 105.

Receiving the reward from Mrs. Davis Lanning, teacher, are Fred Kleene, Dan Reid, Paul Robertson, Gerry Sturch, Fritz Gelb, Breck Brown, John Stern and Jeff Finley.

Others are Larry Michaels, Bob Suliot, Jim Lewleusmuth, and Jim Knowles.

The next issue of the Barnum Junior High school paper, the Ink Splash, is being written by language arts classes and sponsored by William Ladd and Miss Mary Becker, Language Arts instructors.

Students in the art club recently made a club crest and elected officers.

Mary Becker, a new language arts teacher, previously taught English and physical education at Kamey air force base, Puerto Rico. She has coached swimming teams and a water ballet group at Sarasota high school in Sarasota, Florida.

Asked to give her opinion of Barnum, Miss Becker replied, "I like the school very much. There is a nice group of children to work with, and I hope I can contribute to the school life."

Emily Watson's team recently won first place in the eighth grade girls' basketball league. Sue Kennedy's team won first place in the seventh grade girls' basketball league by defeating Allison Flynn's team.

To Tour Auto Plant

Economics classes at Birmingham high school will tour the Ford Rouge plant Tuesday. Students will see methods of production, operation, and processing, supplementing recent study.

Accompanying them will be Edward Stroko, instructor.

Washington Group Parents Invited To Trip Briefing

Members of Birmingham high school's 1956 Washington group and their parents meet next Monday in the gym, so students, advisors and parents may hear rules and regulations as a group to avoid misunderstandings. E. A. Hubbard, director, will answer questions and explain how the trip is organized and supervised. Parents will meet and have time to converse with their members' group advisors. The group will leave New York Central railroad station March 21.

Geologists say the White Pine ore body in Michigan's Upper Peninsula is the largest known undeveloped copper reserve in America.
