

Three People Hurt In 3-Car Collision

SOUTHFIELD—Three persons were injured when one car on the wrong side of 12 Mile road struck two others near Inkster road last Thursday, according to Police Chief Philip LaVigne.

Robert G. Guay, 23, of 19837 Melrose, and his wife, Elizabeth, 22, were treated at William Beaumont hospital, Guay for chest and jaw bruises and his wife for elbow and knee injuries.

Frank H. Rockwell, 49, of Royal Oak, reportedly suffered chest and leg injuries.

LaVigne said a car driven by Raymond J. Hendricks, 54, of Farmington township, is believed to have crossed into westbound traffic lane side-swiping Rockwell's auto which went into a ditch.

Hendricks car, LaVigne said, continued on the wrong side of the road and struck Guay's vehicle head-on. No tickets were issued.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

It is usually parents, not children, who show complete exhaustion after a youngster's birthday party—but Mr. and Mrs. John Lonniskar of Wedgewood drive are exceptions. It was daughter Mary Francis who had the party on her sixth birthday, March 5.

A large table was set for 41 children, and hamburgers, hot dogs, potato salad, chips and everything children like was served. Mary Francis invited her first grade class at Bloomfield Village school, her neighbor friends and little brother, Roger, too. All kinds of games were played and after the children were home asleep, the adults had a little celebration.

Tuesday evening, March 6, Mrs. Howard Keating of Lincoln drive, entertained her neighborhood bridge club. Present to partake of dessert and coffee and to play cards were Mrs. Roger Bremer and Mrs. Edward Wallick of Oakville, Mrs. Edward Weinfurter of Mt. Vernon, Mrs. John Kelley and Mrs. William Dave of Lincoln drive, Mrs. Louis Barribeau of Oakland drive and Mrs. Neil Dostal.
