

BPHAM CITY COMMISSIONER Florence Willett buys the first benefit tickets from Fire Capt. Milford Fuller.

Movie to Benefit Firemen's Families

Birmingham uniformed firemen, off duty, will be in the city's business section tomorrow, selling tickets for the annual Uniformed Firemen's Association (UFA) family welfare and recreational benefit.

Firemen have tickets (50 cents donation) for a full length cinematic movie "Chief Crazy Horse," starring Victor Mature and Susan Ball which will be shown next Thursday, April 6 at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Also on the program are four cartoons and a short subject, and free popcorn will be given to each child attending.

"To SUPPLEMENT the fund, which provides for a fireman and his family in case of injury, we put on this show each year during Easter vacation with the help of the Birmingham theater which donates the theater and its personnel. "We wish to thank everyone who has been connected with this project, for each year it has been a success," Capt. Nunneley said.

Persons or organizations who cannot attend the movie but wish to purchase tickets can do so from their firemen and tickets will be donated to deserving children.

CAPT. C. G. Nunneley, of the Fire department reports various orphanages have been contacted and these children will be admitted free. The Greyhound Bus company has donated four buses to transport the children.

"Your fireman is on duty for 24 hours and then off duty for 24 hours," Capt. Nunneley said. "During this period there are times after all work and drill is completed, that he has to just sit and wait. This is probably one of the hardest things for a new fireman to learn."

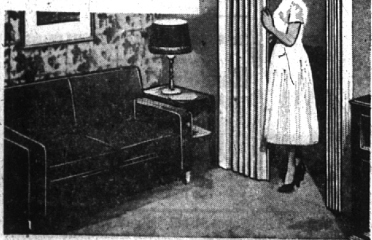

"Some of the things he does during this period is read, watch TV or play cards. All of these extras are provided for out of his own pay or dues, paid to the UFA, after which there isn't much left to go into the family welfare fund," Capt. Nunneley explained.
