

Colonial Dinner To Be 1st Event In New Church

Revising the popular Colonial dinner of Franklin Community church, Harry F. Barr, business commission chairman, has appointed Norman Curran to head the event with the title, "Chief of Staff".

A traditional and festive occasion, the dinner marks the presentation of the church budget to the congregation.

Adding interest to this year's dinner scheduled for May 24, is the fact that it will be the first public meeting in the new church on the Village Green.

ASSISTING CURRIN will be four governors-general: George Huffman, for the North Atlantic colonies; Win Hinman, New England colonies; Eric Opitz, Middle Atlantic colonies, and Earl Taylor,

MISS GRACE BUSH 'Lecture-Recital' To Recount Origin Of Great Songs

Stopping in Birmingham on her recent Eastern tour, a nationally-known poet, composer and lecturer will appear at First Baptist church Sunday, March 11, at 7:30 p.m.

Providing her own musical illustrations at the piano, Miss Grace Bush will recount how some of the great songs of the west were born in a "lecture-recital" entitled "Great Hymns and Hymn Writers."

The church Sanctuary choir, sponsors of Miss Bush's appearance, plans a reception and refreshments following.

Miss Bush, of Los Angeles, has published four books of poems and written over 175 songs, several of which will be featured by First Baptist church soloists Sunday.

SHE HAS APPEARED under her sponsorship of churches, musical organizations and literary groups all over the United States. Her appearances have brought praise from such noted church leaders as Dr. Louis Evans, First Presbyterian church, Hollywood, who said, "She has a classic ability of presentation, those attributes of culture and spiritual insight which enable her to bring vitality to her audiences her fine presentations."

The choir has extended an invitation to the entire community to attend.

Adventists Plan Home Visitation

Members of Seventh-day Adventist church, 1545 Pinecrest will spend Saturday afternoon, March 8, making friendly calls in an effort to encourage better church attendance.

Paul Robertson, home missionary leader for the church, stated the calls would be brief with just a word of Christian greeting.

The program of visiting, started after a vote of the Fall Council in 1949, is aimed at reaching the unchurched in the belief that a family united in worship is more effective. The denomination is cooperating with the Religion in American Life program, which urges, "Give them a faith to live by."
