

Uranium Millionaire

Dallas, Texas—Walter Kassell, 43-year-old aircraft industry employee, recently sold his interest in a Utah uranium discovery for $4,000,000. Kassell, prospecting in a small place last November, noticed that the "scintillator showed more than fifteen times the normal reaction" for an area near Moab, Utah. Kassell is also considering an offer of $3,000,000 for another uranium discovery.

Indianapolis, Ind.—A man, who had just bought a bottle of whisky and slipped it into his overcoat pocket, stopped at a downtown

Mohair breathes fresh air --and a fresh look--into Lebow Clothes

Zephyr-light and gem-lustrous, Britain's finest kid mohair crosses the ocean to surround you with sea-breezes. Wearing it feels like a wide open ride on the Throughway with the top down. Here is mohair with a completely different look, achieved by a new "cross-dye" color process. The hues are exhilarating. In the tradition of fine mohair, "Sheenbreeze," illustrated, will remember its shape—and yours—admirably, aided not a little by Lebow's painstaking hand-tailoring.

NOTE! Mohair is a suit for dress up wear because it holds its shape and never looks worn.
