Youngsters View Furs and Skins

A special treat awaited the second grade of City and Country school last week. They had been studying fabrics and their origins and a trip to chinchilla farm spurred their interest in skins and furs. Mr. C. E. Wilson, Jr., just returned from a trapping trip with his father, Secretary of Defense, brought his collection of skins and furs, stuffed animals, coats etc. for the children to see and told them about them. Every child was allowed to take a piece of fur home.
