

Tolerance is a quality of mind that is needed always in the relations of human beings. Why should one be intolerant of another's honest ideas, anyone than being intolerant of what kinds of food another may like to eat? Intolerance of evil is acceptable, of course.

Engagements and Wedding Date Announcements Make News

CAROL MAREAN

Parents Announce Daughter's Troth

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Marean of Marblehead, Mass., formerly of Birmingham, announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Marean, to Richard Arroll of Swampscott, Mass.

Miss Marean was graduated from Birmingham high school and is now a senior at Dendrick college.

The prospective bridegroom will graduate from Brown university next year. He is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

DOLORES SUSIN and FRANK HEKKER

JOAN CARLSON and JOHN FELL, JR.

Suburban Scene

Susin-Hekker Troth Revealed at Garden Party Saturday Joan Carlson, Ann Kaegi Name Attendants for Summer Rites

By BARBARA GANSCHOW

The ninth annual Horseman's show of Outland's stable last Saturday was off to a dramatic start by the entrance of the color guard.

Color bearers—the Racine carrying the stable banner and Nancy Gignac, the Stars and Stripes led ten other members of the drill team to the center of the arena for the playing of the National Anthem after a short demonstration of formations.

Officials of the show as announced by Joan Outland, show secretary were Clarence Hastings Jackson, Michigan; John Frank Schroeder, racing man; Mrs. Harold Roseberry and M. D. Peltier, announcers; and John Cooper and Colin Campbell, cowboys.

The assistance of Tyne Blacklock and Zeina Outland in the background kept the show running smoothly and without delay between events.

Jane Fisher assisted the judge in the center of the ring throughout the day. Tom Outland, as general overseer, should not be forgotten. With the hundreds of spectators coming and going, rounding up lost children, taking care of the lost and found department and directing people was no easy job.

White stock and blue spots were prevalent among the contestants, riding attire a picture to behold as each entered the arena on the horse of his choice.

ENTRANTS numbering 130, the largest in the history of the stable, included a two and one half year old, Charmaine Shirley, in the lead team class as well as stallions.

"The purpose of the show" and Joan Outland "is to give the rider an opportunity to demonstrate the progress they have made during the year."

THE CHILDREN competing here are not only learning horsemanship, they are also learning partnership as well as demonstrated in instances where mistakes were made in announcing the winners.

They are learning how to face defeat as well as victory. There were 24 classes in all—first place in each receiving a trophy and a blue ribbon, second a red ribbon, third a yellow and fourth a white ribbon.

As the winners were being announced, those selected to present the awards were escorted to the center of the arena where the winners received them.

FIRST PLACE winners in classes from one to 24 in all age groups, were Pat Barry, Susan Lotman, Cheryl Cummings, George Clark, Frederick Kiefer, Rex Beavon, Lynn Hawks, Denise Ashley, Pat Hartner, Joyce Thomson, Dorothy Caldwell, Bernice Hartney, Kim Keeble, Linda Markle, Susan Ramsey and Judy Frederick.

The first trophies with Jean Sartin, David Farley, Kay Bennett, Carolyn Shaw, Beth Bower, Janice Blankenship, Peter Sauer, Diane Bonick and Nancy Brundage.

Class 25 was judged on more advanced horsemanship—leaps and flouzes—considered, centering in (See RESULTS, Page 2, Sec. 2)

Joan will be a bridesmaid for Ann's rites and Ann will serve as Joan's matron of honor.

Ann has chosen her sister, Susan, for her maid of honor, and has asked Kay Lewis and Barbara Dixon of Kokomo and Jane Luzzader of New Carlisle, Ind., to be bridesmaids.

Several members of the family will be in the Carlson-Fell wedding party. Sisters of the principals, Ruth Ann Fell and Jane Carlson, are to be junior bridesmaids.

Other attendants named are a sister and sister-in-law of the groom-to-be, Betsy Fell and Mrs. Bert Fell of Kokomo, and Nancy Clarke of Detroit.

John's brother, Bert, will be his best man, and another brother, Robert, and Glen A. Carlson, Jr., bride's lawyer, and John Lerch of Louisville, Ky., are among those to usher guests.

Showers Honor Joan

A breakfast and milk glass shower honored Joan Saturday in the University hotel, Bloomington, Ind., with Betsy Fell as hostess.

Among guests were 28 graduating seniors from Joan's sorority. Also present were Joan's mother, Mrs. John E. Fell, and Ruth Ann.

Mrs. Carlson and Jane traveled to Indiana for the party. Ann and Susan Kaegi were there as were Mrs. H. Hoadley and daughter from Bloomington; Mrs. Lowell Heath and daughter of Indianapolis; and Mrs. M. Stier of Seattle, Wash.

Mrs. M. M. Mathews, Mrs. H. M. Rhover and Mrs. R. Mehlig will entertain at a shower and brunch Saturday in the Kokomo country club. A kitchen shower is planned for Monday in the Kokomo home of Mrs. W. H. Bassett.

ANN KAEGI and DON BUTTON

LOIS MARY SILLS

Lois Sills To Wed Lt. Henry W. Price

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Lois Mary Sills to Lt. Henry W. Price, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Price of Oakland avenue, Birmingham.

The bride-to-be's parents are the Frederick B. Sills of Kokomo, Ind. She is a member of Psi Upsilon Xi society.

Lt. Price entered service in 1952 after graduation from the University of Illinois where he was affiliated with Phi Delta Theta fraternity. He is stationed at Hines Field Air Force base.

A fall wedding is planned.

Brown to Head Village Players

Elected president of the Village Players of Birmingham last week, Richard A. Brown will pilot the amateur theatre group through next year's close season.

New board members elected at the same meeting are Mrs. Edward Gold, Mrs. Lawton C. Taber, Tom Adams and Gordon F. Jeynes.

Have You Met . . .

The new residents on Henrietta avenue? Mr. and Mrs. George E. Ferber and their 15-month-old son, Curtis George, moved here this month from Detroit. Ferber is a metallurgical engineer with Chrysler Corp. He is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity and the American Society of Metals. His hobby is flying.

Early Copy Next Week, Please!

Because of next Wednesday's Memorial holiday, all Society News Deadlines must be advanced a full 24-hours, or to 3 p.m. Monday, May 28.

Your cooperation will be deeply appreciated.

BOB LILLEY (right) gives Mrs. John Gray a few pointers on how to manipulate the bagpipe . . . while Bill Russell plays on.

Old Fashioned Scotch Attire Donned For 'One Club Tourney' at Oakland Hills

By FRAN MAIER

Lassies donned old fashioned and Scottish attire and started early last Friday to tee off a pillow at Oakland Hills Country club. Later contestants used a rubber mat for teeing off—the "stuffers" got beat out of the pillow.

In keeping with the theme of "Fun Day at old St. Andrews" the day did not end with luncheon. Non-golfers tried their luck in a putting and driving contest.

WEARING name tags in the shape of Scotty dogs, participants gathered around the punch bowl followed by luncheon and more festivities.

Clever planning went into the table settings. Covering the tables was plain brown wrapping paper accented with lines of red, green, black and white finger paints. Tall tapers placed at various intervals were wrapped with plaid ribbons and adorned with tulips and hyacinths. Plain old scotch bottles

AT THE LUNCHEON table with Mrs. John Gray (right), chairman of the event are (from left) Mrs. William Cartright and Mrs. Francis Sehn.