Teen Ager's Skating Party

Voodooed by Triple Jinx

Valley Woods' teen-age group find it hard to get together for fun-time. Saturday, after cancelling twice, the group finally made it to the roller rink—only to be returned to their respective homes immediately, because of the tornado alert. They gathered at Clawson rink and just managed to put on skates when a call from home warned the parent chaperones. Kenneth Walling of Eastlady road helped organize the return.

Mrs. Lynn Hershey, civilian defense director, urges all parents to take extra precaution during tornado alerts. Mrs. Hershey advised against having teen-age baby sitters with small children. In Saturday's alert the Nike installation at 11 mile road spotted two tornadoes over this area. This immediately set in motion a telephone campaign which brought to light many homes left with only a teenage sitter in charge. Although most teen-agers are capable of extreme fear and panic can cause them to revert to small children. Civilian defense requests that parents remain home when a tornado warning has been issued.

Busy brownies of group 473 really made their moms proud Thursday. Assisted by their leader, Mrs. Bert Gatzward; Belvina trail and co-leader, Mrs. J. E. Dahn; LaShae rd., the girls received and served their mothers at tea, in honor of mothers day. As each mother arrived, her daughter pinned on a tiny corsage. Made by the girls, each corsage bore a note listing chores daughter promised to do around the house for a month. After tea, the girls presented a program they had prepared themselves. Lynn Rogers, mistress of ceremonies, presented each rendition with finesse. Martha Forsyth, Barbara Shifford, Sandra Spence, and Janice Sevory recited a poem, "I Love You Mother." Janice Gatzward, Deborah Deuel and Judy Dehn sang "White Bells." Cheryl Berkey played piano and Patty Smith did a Dutch dance. Sally Dahn and Elizabeth Stark finished the program with Brahms' Lullaby.

Mrs. Dahn opened her home for the occasion and Mrs. William Dehn provided floral arrangements. Judy Dehn presented each departing brownie with a flower-filled miniature vase.

An Andrea Flajole, Browneswood court, invited a group of her small friends to help celebrate her 8th birthday. Seated around the pink

Andrea's mother, Mrs. William Flajole planned games little ones enjoy at kindergarten. A festive candy, ice cream and birthday cake. Andrea treated guests to a ride on her special birthday surprise, a TWO WHEEL bike.

Last week Mrs. Russell Schauf, Eastlady road, was guest of honor at a stork shower at the home of Mrs. Walter Nylund, a neighbor. After pretty packages and bridles, Mrs. Nylund served a buffet supper. Her table was spriggle, with pear blossoms and tall white tapered, on a pale rose cloth, enhanced by miniature cradles and storks.

Guest list included Mrs. Robert Wertman, Mrs. Bessie Kirtz, Mrs. Ralph DeNio, Mrs. William Schauf, Mrs. Don Goudie, Mrs. William Kirtz, Mrs. James Kirtz, Mrs. Edward Bennett, Mrs. Scott Bryant, Mrs. Harvey Stoll and Mrs. Kenneth Walling.

Church Breakfast Guests

Wear Remarkable Costumes

Carped in a diverting assortment of nighties, pajamas, wash-day slacks and brunch coats, feminine members of Community church congregation and their sleepy-eyed offspring met Monday morning for a surprise "come as you are" breakfast planned by the fall fair committee of the Women's association, headed by the resourceful Mrs. Fred Goudie.

Hilarity at the caught-short costumes was calmed long enough to sing "Happy Birthday" to Mrs. J. H. Becker. Guests were returned to their homes and Monday chores by the committee, consisting of Mrs. Robert Steger, Mrs. Gerald Wike, Mrs. George Harden, Mrs. Melvin Humphrey, Mrs. Paul Nash and Mrs. Paul Miller.

Diachards, who say women can't make up their minds, should meet Mrs. Carl Lenz of Glenwood avenue. Flying to Bloomfield, N.J., on May 21, she returned, just a week later, the possessor of a brand new tri-level home at Pack-anek lake, N. J.

The Lenz and son, Richard will leave our village, regretfully, in June, when their home will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Northey of Detroit. Mr. Northey is with Federal Social corporation.

JHS and TYPS of Lathrup Community church will sponsor a luncheon and bridge at the church, May 25. A special homemakers program will precede cards and prizes.

Several young gentlemen of the home volunteered as baby-sitters. Mrs. Lester Aminger and Mrs. John Liver will direct these young ladies in serving guests: Carol Home, Claudia Stafford, Nancy Dewey, Carolyn Stoker and Judy Bieh.

What better way is there to celebrate mother's day than becoming a mother? Mrs. George Schwelinger, Sunset drive, did just that when she welcomed small Sally Ann at New Grace hospital May 18. Big sisters, Donna and Patricia and, of course, Papa George think it's pretty wonderful, too.

Cheryl Commons won her blue ribbon for beginning horseman in the 9th annual horsemanship show at (Duland's) stable Saturday. Riding with drill team 2, Barbara Craig will have her name engraved on a plaque which will hang in the trophy room of the stable.

Other Lathrup entries were Sharon Fleischer, riding her new Tennessee walker, Valentine, and
