Kingswood Column

Tomorrow the Kingswood Junior class will present its annual spring fashion show. This year juniors have chosen the theme, "Through the Looking Glass."

Anne Wilson and the decorations committee, achieved the looking glass effect with a huge wooden frame and many artificial flowers.

This year juniors are selling tickets to the show to raise money for the foreign student fund. Martha Yacinas, head of the ticket committee, estimates that juniors will be able to turn over approximately $85 to the fund.

Alex Nason, the show's narrator, will comment on the fashions as each girl steps through the looking glass.

Spectacular J-Hop Promised May 19 At B'ham High

What is special about May 19? That's when Waiulus, which juniors state promises to be the most spectacular J-Hop in Birmingham high school history will be presented.

The class of '57 is putting the finishing touches on the 1956 J-Hop, for which the Continentals will supply the music and "Tropical Island" will be the theme.

To put it financially in reach of everyone, the price will be only $3.50 per couple.

Juniors handling arrangements are Tom McDaniel, tickets; Alice Sawyer, cleanup; Nancy Olsen, decorations; Nancy Maxwell, refreshments; Sarah Hogan, band; Norma Webb, Art Chandler, programs; Brian Deans, lights; Mary Burkman, finance; and general chairman, Sue Tabor and Ken Hogan.

Beverly Students Broadcast Today

Another fund raising project is under way this week at Kingswood. Sophomores, bent on raising more money for the fund, are sponsoring a horror movie, "The Mummy's Hand" in the auditorium Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

Saturday morning, April 28, a group of Kingswood girls, purporting to represent the state of Pennsylvania, attended a "mock" Republican convention at Kalamazoo college.

Attending were Marge Van Dusen, Debbie Moore, Gail Gerhardt, Sue Day, Anne Coughlin.

Presenting a program of songs from seven countries today over station WVAR were second and third graders from Beverly school. Under direction of Miss Marion Olds, music instructor, the program was a sequel to a recent world tour program at the school.

Linda Levandorf, Sue Hodges and Amy Howell, Chaperones were Miss Virginia Robb and Miss Dorothea Morill, both of the Kingswood faculty.

TWO IN CAHOOTS WITH YOU!

The bra has your youthfully lifted contour at heart. Has front-crowded elastic for ease, too. And the gossard price is right. $2.00. Cotton with embroidered cotton.

Gossard's pantie girdle your legs can't feel seems barely there in elastic lace with elastic net around the up-shaped legs. Yet you're smoothed beautifully. Boneless pull-on with satin elastic panel. $5.95

May Concert Offers Variety At Adams School

Variety will keynote the annual May concert at Adams school Wednesday, May 9 at 8 p.m., when 83 members of the school band and orchestra will perform.

Under the direction of Harold R. Jones, musical numbers ranging from "Syncope and Clock" Brahms' Hungarian Dance No. 5 will be presented. Comedy will enter the picture when the old-fashioned German band which calls itself "The Hungry Five" performs. German band members are Charles Fierz, Jan Giboney, Phil Satterthwaite, Duane Dunham and Dan Rogers.

A cornet solo will feature Phil Satterthwaite. Receipts from the nominal admission fee will set up a fund to provide transportation expenses for the ensembles and band when they participate in state music festivals.

Hopes are to set up a scholarship fund to send students to summer music camps for two or three weeks.

FTC Takes A Trip

The Birmingham Future teacher's club took a field trip to Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti last week. Attending were Mrs. Barbara Van Steenburg, advisor, Caryl Powell, Kay Fowler, Barbara Ritter, Janet McDonald, Peggy Joyner, Mary Ellen Jones, Karen Keene and Emily Tucker.
