Proceeds from School Event Will Go for Teaching Aids

It seemed as though almost everyone and their children attended the "Pembroke Panic" held at Pembroke school Friday afternoon and evening. The affair, aimed primarily to interest youngsters, drew plenty of them and their parents also.

Many of the fathers detoured from the commuter train directly to school, and others in the neighborhood knew where to find mother and the children, even though it was dinnertime.

In charge of the affair was Mrs. Charles Leinenkugel, PTA ways and means chairman. Each school-room had classmothers in charge of a project or a game. Every child seemed to win a prize. Robert Kirkby, PTA president, said most of the proceeds from the event will be given to the school for training aids, planetariums, photo files, and reference books for the library. The remainder will stay in the PTA treasury for next year's operational expenses.

Mrs. Garth Hawley was hostess last week at her Graefield road home, to members of the Mary Ogden Circle of Embury Methodist church. Sixteen ladies attended the meeting, prior to which Mrs. Hawley served dessert and coffee.

After spending a year and a half in Frankfurt, Germany on Army duty, and a short stay in Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. William Waddell and two children, Mary Jean, 2 and Billy, 7 months old, have moved to their new home on Graefield road. Mr. Waddell is an engineer with Carboloy, division of General Electric. Both Mr. and Mrs. Waddell enjoy playing bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fehan of 2768 Derby road will be entertaining at their home, for a short visit, Mrs. Fehan's sister, Mrs. Robert Tracey and her two sons, arriving tomorrow from their home in Kenmore, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. William Coons entertained five couples of friends and neighbors to celebrate the completion of a new game room in their home at 935 Norwich road Saturday evening. Refreshments were served after an evening of ping pong and dancing.

More newcomers to Graefield Terraces are Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Savini, and children, Frank, 6, and Barbara, 6 weeks old. Mrs. Savini has been in Wayne, Pa., Mr. Savini's home town, but will be joining him tomorrow with the children. Both Mr. and Mrs. Savini are graduates of Elon college in North Carolina. Mr. Savini is a golfer, and both enjoy bridge. He is district manager for the F. E. Compton Co., publishers of Compton's encyclopedia.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Swanson of Norwich road are entertaining Mrs. Swanson's parents, who arrived for a visit last weekend from their home in Alexandria, Va.

Mrs. John Rakich and Mrs. Donald Pennell book cub scouts of den 7, pack B-23 on a trip to a taxidermist's last week. The boys were quite impressed by all the deer heads kept in cold storage until they could be mounted.

They also saw 50 Michigan black bear skins which are to be made into rugs. The boys on this trip were Ronald Rakich, Donald Kennedy, George Pennell, Tommy Tobias, Mike Robertson, and Paul Reardon.

Tomorrow the group is headed to Royal Oak to tour the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Mrs. James Isham will assist Mrs. Rakich on the trip.
