

Kindergarten Round-Up Slated At Village School

On Wednesday, June 6, at 10:15 a.m. the kindergarten round-up will be held for children entering Bloomfield Village school and their mothers.

Mr. Marsden Wilson, school principal; Mrs. Evelyn Ayer, kindergarten teacher; and Miss Francis Curtin, school health program director, will talk to the mothers.

Frank Colpitts, speech correctionist, will also talk with the mothers and visit with the children.

Mothers are asked to bring either birth or baptismal certificates verifying the child's age of five years before December 1, 1936.

Mrs. E. A. Taggart, PTA president, said if parents of any five-year-olds in the school's district who have not been contacted will phone the school office, they will be sent an invitation.

Refreshments will be served the

Scholarships Awarded to Eight

Eight boys from the Detroit metropolitan area have been awarded scholarships in the Cranbrook summer theatre school, which opens June 18 in the Greenbush on Lone Pine road, Bloomfield Hills.

Named by Director Carl G. Wonnberger were Andy Hawley of Birmingham high school; Gerald Weechler of the Shrine; Dennis Miller of Hazel Park; Gary Lichtman of Mumfords; Louis Potter of Cranbrook; Bill Snyder and Larry Ruzama of Mackenzie; and William Kalls of Cody.

Wonnberger receives a second scholarship and Andy Hawley a third.

Scholarships include instruction in voice, diction, pantomime and theatre arts, and participation in all weekly and final plays. Scholarships are open to men only in the Detroit metropolitan area.

Scholarship winners will be children and mothers by Mrs. Howard Thomson, hospital utility chairman, assisted by mothers of present kindergarten classes.

City Receives Safety Award

Congratulations are in order for Birmingham after a telegram received from the National Safety Council Friday by Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley.

"This city was today awarded a certificate of achievement for accident records in the 1935 traffic safety award program. Our heartfelt congratulations," the wire stated.

Birmingham is one of only a few cities in the 10 to 25 thousand population category to receive the honor.

Continuing his close check on local accidents and their causes, Moxley said that an April total of 42 accidents was down considerably from the March high of 68.

"Give the other driver the same courtesy you would like to receive from him," Moxley said, "and accidents in Birmingham and elsewhere will be greatly reduced."

Taking A Hundred Or So Children On A Field Tour?

If you're planning to take several hundred kids on a railroad tour, better let the railroad know about it ahead of time, says H. J. Wichman, Birmingham ticket agent for the Grand Trunk railroad.

"Now is the time when schools and other organizations schedule educational tours for large groups of children," said Wichman.

Sponsors of these tours should make a week or ten days in advance if they are planning to transport their youngsters via the Grand Trunk so that we can arrange to have extra cars on the train to accommodate them.

"We are very extra careful with these little people," he added. "We do move the train until every one of them is seated."

"Since we have to maintain our regular schedules, we can only handle this additional load by making plans in advance for them," he said.

Existing residential-type buildings may be depicted in the business section under a building code amendment approved this week by Birmingham city commission.

This amendment will permit Birmingham ambulance service on E. Maple to put up a new block garage to replace the present old frame structure.

Commissioners approved the change after they were assured by city officials that it would not affect the intent of the ordinance, designed to prohibit continued use of antiquated building practices.
