MARGARET DAY MI 6-6798

Pre-Schoolers Attend Kindergarten Preview

With summer vacations approaching, schools are winding up the semester's activities with social gatherings for students. May 28, kindergartners at Vaughan played hosts to pre-schoolers, who will take their place in classrooms next fall.

From Carriage road, the Robert Dusseau's young Bobby hurried over to get a first look at teacher and the finger-paint crowd. The John Piecus curly-haired Sue had her clothes ("Everything must match, please") laid out days ahead for this event. From E. Millerway, the Frank Rockwell's blond Billy went to see where "they" go everyday.

Last week's annual spring festival at Vaughan was well attended by students and parents.

Friday night, Bloomfield Hills high school gave the season's last party; a dance called "blue twilight." Mary Ann Ogar, Jonathan Lane, gave a small pre-dance party. Laurie Pinkerton gave a party afterward. Then the crowd gathered at Andy Gallaudet's home on Shadow lane for breakfast.

Newcomers to Lone Pine village are Ernest and Marian Hewitt of Ranch lane. Long-time residents of Birmingham, they formerly lived on Westchester way and Bloomfield court. Golf and boating at their Torch lake cottage are favorite pastimes.

Thursday friends and family of Arthur J. Picotte gathered at his Quarton road home to offer congratulations and share his birthday cake. Guests at the patio luncheon were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Marquette, Windsor, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Trepanier with their children, Gary and Gloria Jean. Mrs. Don Simetz, the "Picotte's" daughter, Beverly, came from Waterford with young Ronnie and Steve.

Ensign Thomas Robinson, Jr. was here as a guest of Mary Longdyke and her family, the Harold Longdykes, S. Millerway. Tom, who is stationed in Florida, joined the family for a trip to the Au Sable, with visits to Westbranch and Mackinac.

On May 20 Mrs. Rinehart Vogt, E. Millerway, presented two readings from her column, "In This Corner" at the mother and daughter banquet of St. Paul's-on-the-shore, Grosse Pointe.

Friday Mrs. Louis Spencer gave her annual spring get-together for neighbors. Twenty-four friends gathered in her home on Harsdale for the event.

Departing from New York via Scandinavian Airlines System for Norway are the Marshall Fredericks of Bloomfield Hills. They will spend several weeks in Europe.

A group of summer neighbors with cottages around Crystal lake got together last weekend before the work of readying their cottages gets underway. Mr. and Mrs. John Fernung came from Kokomo, Ind. to be guests of the Rowe Balmers at Detroit Boat Club's party-of-the-month Saturday night. Barbara and Fred Olsen, Wooddale road, were along for the fun, too. Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Martin of Grand Rapids were guests of the Balmers on Snow-shoe circle.
